Back county concept instead

Suburbs blast EPA sewer plan

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

Western Wayne County officials Thursday at a public hearing in Romulus blasted a plan proposed by the Federal EPA to extend a new sewage disposal system into their areas.

Instead, endorsement was almost unanimous of another plan recommended by the Wayne County Board of Public Works called alternate "A-1".

Especially outspoken were officials and representatives from the cities of Belleville and Romulus. The townships of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron also spoke against the EPA plan.

An Environmental Impact

Statement (EIS), a lengthy pamphlet compiled by the Federal EPA and released recently, recommended the adoption and implementation of alternate "D".

Most Western Wayne County communities felt the proposed alternate "D" plan, with its 26.4 miles from the north Canton Township line to the vicinity of Gibraltar, to be too costly and too demanding.

Included in provisions of alternate "D" are stipulations that participating communities must sell all or part of their existing sewer capacities to take part in the new sewage disposal system.

Called the Huron Valley Waste Water Control System public hearing, the session was called by the Federal EPA to gather input from affected local communities and was held in the Romulus City Hall.

The county-backed sewage disposal system, alternate "A-1", would run some 50 miles from White Lake Township in Oakland County and through Northville, Novi, Plymouth and Canton townships. Then, it would follow roughly the same course from there as alternate "D", ending in the Gibraltar area.

Under alternate "A-1", only one new sewage treatment plant would be built, but with alternate "D", at least two would have to be constructed, according to Romulus Clerk Leonard Folmar. One would be for the new sewage disposal system extension and the other for communities who would not be part of the new system, he added.

The Federal EPA's EIS was taken to task by several community officials for using statistics now already outdated, including population projections for 1980, which have been surpassed in many instances.

Speaking for Van Buren Township, Sup. Pat Cullin pulled no punches in denouncing alternate "D".

"As supervisor of Van Buren Township, I believe I speak for the total of 20,000 people residing in Van Buren Township. I know I feel and express the frustration and anger of these residents of Van Buren Township at what the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has done to our community," she declared.

She stressed that Van Buren, along with other communities in the area, has been anticipating the completion of the sewage disposal program "initially demanded by our state and federal government".

Cullin said the township had been willing to assume some of the highest costs of any participating community, but that the state of Michigan and the Federal EPA had circumvented previous planning.

"What is even more idiotic is that the powers to be, imagined this 180-degree policy change and double-dealing, will somehow prevent industry and population from moving out of the city of Detroit."

"The only thing it will accomplish is to assure that any movement will bypass, not only Western Wayne County, but the state of Michigan, as the big Ford plan which went to Ohio," she asserted.

She said the federal government's "first blow" is its attempt to destroy the regional sewer plan by allowing Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti to withdraw from the system. She explained this would assure continual polluting along the Huron River and would threaten the township's recreational areas, including Belleville Lake.

Cullin maintained the new Ypsilanti sewage treatment plant, now under construction, would be out-moded when completed.

"And now the 'second blow'. An Environmental Impact Statement with a proposed recommended program which so decimates and fragmentizes the total concept of a regional system which has been under study for 12 years that it is difficult to even realize we're talking about the same problems and needs of the same people in the same three-county area," she charged.

The Van Buren supervisor further charged that the township is being told it must sell existing sewage

Romulus mayor backs county sewer plan

Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley joins almost unanimous recommendation of communities in Western Wayne County as he endorses alternate "A-1", a plan to extend sewage disposal system throughout Wayne County. Alternate "A-1" is the brainchild of the Wayne County Board of Public Works and would be at odds with alternate "D" proposed by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency. Hearing above was held

Jail possible again

VB board would do it again

Van Buren Township's three top elected officials would do it all over again—go to jail—rather than give in to a judge's order to allow a mobile home park to connect to the nearby Ypsilanti sewage system.

The trio—Sup. Pat Cullin, Clerk Doreen Craven, and Treasurer Dorothy York—and the other four members of the township board have been home about 12 days since spending a night in the Wayne County Jail Dec. 28 and most of the day Dec. 29.

They refused to obey Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman's order to allow the sewer hookup because they felt it would further pollute Belleville Lake. The case has been in and out of the courts since 1971.

Asked if she would do it again, Sup. Cullin responded, "Of course. I'll admit it's quite an experience. I would like it even less now that I know what to expect."

"But, if it's the only solution, I'd go back. A lot of people believe we can protect the lake better here from township hall than in jail, however," she explained.

Cullin was referring to the message contained at the top of petitions circulated throughout the township following the board's release by a group calling itself the Van Buren Ecology Committee.

The "support petition" commends the township board for the stand it took, approves of the board's fight to keep lake pollution down, opposes the sewer hookup and supports the board whether they obey the judge and sign for the sewer connection or choose to go back to jail or to resign.

Cullin noted that if the board resigned, there would be no one in authority in township government to effect an agreement between Van Buren and Ypsilanti for the sewer hookup.

"It would be a delaying tactic," she admitted. "By the time the governor would appoint our replacements, the new sewage treatment plant in Ypsilanti would be built and there would be no problem."

The Ypsilanti Community Utilities Authority (YCUA) currently is constructing a new sewage treatment plant that is scheduled for completion in 1981. Recent communication from YCUA indicated it could not handle an additional sewage load such as the proposed mobile home park and its 450 inhabitants at this time, in any event.

Clerk Craven, in commenting on her recent stay in jail, said, "If that's what it takes, I'll do it again."

She said the township board "made its point" in going to jail. She echoed what Sup. Cullin had said about her supporters believing she could better serve them from township hall than being lodged in the county jail.

"However, I'd be reluctant to sign (the agreement)," she said.

Treasurer York explained, "If the board decides it's the route to go, I'd go again."

Asked about her examination at the Detroit General Hospital Dec. 28 and her return to jail a few hours later, she said, "The hospital didn't want me because of all the publicity and the jail didn't want me because they were afraid I'd kick off."

Mrs. York suffers from hypertension and requires several dosages of medication daily.

Richard G. James, township attorney, said legal briefs will be filed Friday, Jan. 12 on behalf of the board in regard to their appeal from Judge Kaufman's jail order. On Jan. 26, the attorneys for the mobile home park developers will file their briefs, he said.

The Michigan Court of Appeals on Jan. 29 will hear the township board's appeal on the contempt of court charge for refusing to obey the judge's order.

"If the appeal should fail, the township board would have to be resentenced. If that happens, we will ask for a new judge," James said.

2nd Hearing slated on airport expansion

A master plan study explaining current planning processes and contemplated future expansion at Detroit Metro and Willow Run airports will be discussed at public hearings sponsored Jan. 16 and Jan. 17, respectively, by the Wayne County Road Commission.

Both hearings are the second to be put on for the general public by the road commission, which operate both air facilities.

The hearing on Metro Airport will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 16, at the Romulus City Hall, while the hearing on Willow Run Airport will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 17 at the Van Buren Township Hall.

Both hearings will be hosted by Thomas Chastain, executive vice president of Transplan, Inc., which has been chosen as consultants for the master plan study by the road commission.

Huron names acting supt.

Dr. Donald Leverenz of Dearborn last week was named as acting superintendent of the Huron Public Schools by the Huron Board of Education.

Dr. Leverenz, who is coordinator of career education for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, actually is being loaned for two months to the Huron School District under an agreement between the two districts.

On Monday, Dr. Leverenz took over the duties of heading the Huron school system from William Balwinski, principal of Renton Jr. High School, who was filling in as acting interim superintendent.

The new school head said the Huron school board will begin a search for a full-time superintendent in the near future.

"I am being loaned to the Huron School District for a period of two months. My time here could even be longer," he said.

Balwinski was named by the school board as acting interim head of the school system after Supt. Byron Antcliff submitted his resignation following the working out of an amicable agreement between him and the board. His last day on the job was Dec. 29.

Dr. Antcliff's resignation and the of his assistant, Phil Dalley, last October and Ron Sniderman, director of basic skills, makes three administrators who have left the Huron Schools in the past few months. Lee Goodney, assistant administrator in charge of maintenance, who retired recently, was the fourth key staff member to leave.

Once the school board succeeds in locating a full-time superintendent, it will undoubtedly fall upon his shoulders, with board permission, to select personnel to replace the key men lost to his office and the school system.

Go over plans for car wash

Parks offer skiing

One of the most popular activities at the Huron-Clinton Metroparks is cross country skiing, with persons "making their own trails" across the terrain.

Cross country skiing is available at seven of the 10 metroparks (weather permitting), which serve residents in Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw counties.

This winter sport is growing in popularity at Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropark near Rochester and Utica, Kensington Metropark near Milford, Hudson Mills Metropark northwest of Ann Arbor, Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville, Willow Metropark between New Boston and Flat Rock and Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock.

The cross country ski trails are free of charge, however, park visitors must pay vehicle entry charges of $7 annual, $2 for senior citizens, or $2 daily, which are in effect year-round.

Cross country ski rentals are available at Kensington and Stony Creek metroparks, where special marked trails are provided.

At Kensington the ski rental service is situated in the Ski Touring Center (located at the Golf Starter Building). It is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. It will be open through March, weather permitting.

Equipment rentals include skis, poles, boots and bindings for use on special novice trails at the golf course site, or advanced cross country trails throughout the park.

Rental rates are for complete sets of equipment are $5 for a half day, skis only $2; boots only $2 and poles only $1. The insurance fee is $2, and there is a $15 security and damage deposit.

Rental equipment is for use in the park only, and acceptable identification must be presented at the time of rental. When equipment is returned in satisfactory condition, half of the insurance fee is returned. If the skier has chosen to leave the $15 deposit, the complete amount is returned, if the equipment is returned in good condition.

The Ski Touring Center has heated restrooms and food service.

The rental service is operated by Raupp Campfitters Inc. in conjunction with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. It is offered when there is sufficient snow cover and according to the rules established for the park.

Ski lessons, costing $3 per hour, also are available each Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m., weather permitting.

Details on the ski lessons, or ski rentals, are available by contacting Kensington Metropark at 685-1408. Cross country ski trail brochures are available at the Ski Touring Center.

Bonds: Safe buy

Financial experts rarely agree on anything, except that they will continue to disagree. But one of the few things on which there is general agreement is the need of everyone to have a savings reserve.

Savings are important because they form the basis for investment, home buying, and large consumer purchasing — all of which are essential to a healthy economy. Savings also are the major precaution most families have taken against emergencies.

Many individuals and families who have had trouble accumulating a large savings reserve, or have not been able to save at all, have found a means by which they can put together a substantial nest egg with a minimum of effort. They have discovered the Payroll Savings Plan for U. S. Savings Bonds.

Companies offering their employees Payroll Savings are found in cities and towns throughout the country. Enrolled employees can have a small amount of each paycheck — often as little as $3.75 — go toward Bonds. When enough money has been accumulated to purchase a Bond — $18.75 for a $25 Bond — the security is issued and begins earning interest. The current rate is an average of 6 percent per annum, when held to a five-year maturity (4½ percent the first year).

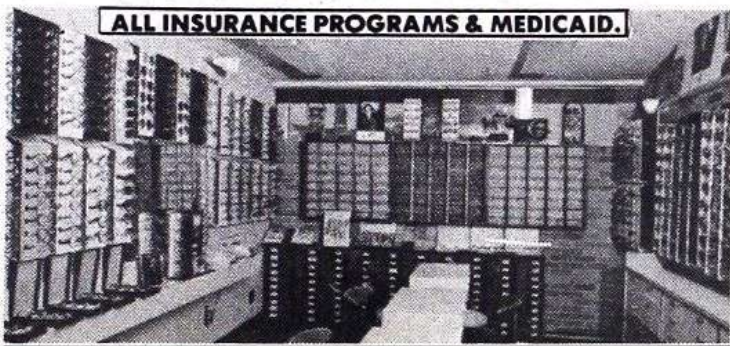

Payroll Savings makes saving at a good rate of interest easy. But there is more. Bond interest is exempt from state and local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until the Bonds are cashed or reach final maturity. Depending on total income, this can raise the effective yield significantly. Bonds also are guaranteed safe against loss, with lost or stolen securities replaced free. There is no safer way to save.

Since 1941, when E. Bonds were first offered for sale, millions of individuals and families have used Savings Bonds as a basic part of their savings strategy. Today, 9½ million purchase Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan, and millions more purchase Bonds at their bank. They have found an easy way to follow the advice of the experts, and have become a part of the savings program for everyone.

Senior activities slated

The year 1979 holds many activities and events for Romulus senior citizens. The Recreation Department has scheduled daily activities throughout the city of Romulus and at the seniors drop-in-center.

Bi-monthly shopping trips, enabling seniors to get to the nearby shopping malls are taken on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. Trips to various activities such as the Auto Show, Home and Garden Show and other scheduled big events in Detroit are also taken.

One day or several day trips are planned at the suggestions of the seniors and scheduled with them in mind. Early spring holds a five day excursion to Niagara Falls and Toronto.

A monthly senior citizens newsletter is available to all Romulus seniors with articles of their happenings and a daily schedule of activities. Newsletters are mailed to those Romulus Seniors 50 years of age and over who do not frequent the drop-in-center.

Daily activities are: Monday - bowling, bazaar class, ceramics, quilting and square dancing; Tuesday - decoupage; Wednesday - leather and bingo; Thursday - macrame and dried flower arrangements; Friday - knitting, needlepoint and crocheting.

All classes are held at the drop-in-center, 36515 Bibbins, and are free to Romulus residents 50 years of age and older. If you are interested in obtaining information or joining in activities, contact the Recreation Department at 941-0666, extension 67. Transportation is provided for all sponsored events.

Ski trip scheduled

The Romulus Recreation Department is sponsoring a ski club which will be going to Alpine Valley on Friday, Jan. 26, 1979. Trip is available to all Romulus residents 16 years old and over. Transportation will be provided by the recreation department. There must be a minimum of 20 people for the trip to be held.

All beginner skiers must have one lesson. Trip will be leaving the recreation department at 5 p.m. on Jan. 26. All participants must fill out a liability form and bring that form and payment for the trip to the recreation department no later than 4 p.m. on Jan. 22. Cost of trip: tow - $5, rental - $5, lesson - $2.

Skiing lessons set

Family Cross country skiing for Romulus residents 10 years of age and older will be held at Harrison Elementary School on Jan. 16, 1979 at 6:30 to 8 p.m. Cost is $5 per person (includes lesson and equipment usage).

Lesson will be half hour inside and completion of lesson will be outside. After lesson, coffee and hot chocolate will be served. If interested, fill out a form (available at the Recreation Office) and bring in money to register. There will be no exceptions made after 4 p.m. on Jan. 12.

disposal capacity and abandon a superior proposal "in order to be a recipient of the great benefits, 'money', from the Great White Father in Washington."

Cullin concluded by endorsing alternate "A-1" and denouncing alternate "D".

"Van Buren Township and its 20,000 residents will not be blackmailed, will not be intimidated, and will not prostitute itself for a few federal dollars thrown into its face with a take it or leave it attitude," she said.

Belleville's Mayor Justin Emerson, although expressing opposition to alternate "D" and supporting alternate "A-1", said his community would not sell its interest and capacity in its current downriver sewage disposal system and would not acquire capacity in any alternate system.

"The sewage disposal system serving the city is adequate and there is no rational or reasonable justification for the city expending public funds for any new system," he explained.

He also said the residents of Belleville are indebted to the county for bonds until about the year 2005 to pay for the sewage disposal capacity under its downriver sewage disposal system contract negotiated in March of 1962.

Also endorsing alternate "A-1" was Mayor William M. Oakley of Romulus, along with Sup. Roy Raker of Huron Township. Sumpter Township reportedly will approve recommendation of alternate "A-1" at its next township board session and forward a letter to that effect to the Federal EPA.

Comments made by other officials and representatives of communities which attended the public hearing included:

Mrs. Helen Waino, office manager for and representing Cong. William Ford, recommended alternate "A-1", calling it "the most socially implementable".

Sup. Thomas G. Notebaert of Plymouth Township called the EIS "a waste of money and valuable time". He endorsed alternate "A-1". He, too, said the study's population projections were "erroneous" and declared the study was made to fit conclusions.

Mayor Ted L. Anders of Flat Rock said his residents were "angered and frustrated" over sewer overflows and backups. He vowed his community would never support alternate "D".

Sup. Robert Long of Commerce Township also backed alternate "A-1", calling it "the only implementable, viable alternative".

William Mosher, engineer for Northville Township, ripped the EIS for its "elementary textbook" and library references. He criticized the EPA for failing to contact his community and for using population figures "much in error". He also supported alternate "A-1".

Paul Vernon, mayor of Northville, said he was not an "expert", but was representing a sizable number of people who were worried about the EPA's actions. He specifically condemned the odor now coming from area streams and the millpond in the heart of Northville at certain times of the year. He said he favored alternate "A-1" because it was more "cost effective and would improve the environment for years to come".

Mrs. Romaine Roethel, mayor of Novi, questioned whether it was the responsibility of the EPA "to control the destiny of Americans in their choice of residency". She also stated her opposition as a member to the League of Women Voters' decision to back alternate "D".

Wilson P. Grier, chairman of the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation, said the EPA is not getting the message being sent to it by residents of Western Wayne County. He contended that if alternate "D" is implemented, every downriver community would end up selling its sewage disposal capacity to every community upriver. The result, he maintained, would be the polluting of water sources in areas such as Northville and Newburgh Lake in Plymouth and Livonia.

Grier also hit the EPA for using erroneous population figures and said alternate "D" would cost Michigan taxpayers "A lot of money". He in particular rapped the EPA for dragging its feet since 1975 and for not listening or doing anything about the sewage disposal problems.

"I hope it doesn't cost $2 billion and we have to come back again in another 10 years," he declared.

Noel D. Culbert, supervisor of Canton Township, called alternate "D" "unacceptable". However, he said Canton will not endorse or commit itself to alternate "A-1" either.

"Regardless of which alternate is ultimately approved, Canton Township feels that those municipalities paying for the system should have control over that system. Neither proposal gives that control to the municipalities," he explained.

Culbert pointed out the alternate "D" would cost Canton Township more than twice as much as alternate "A-1". He criticized the county and the EPA for their constant bickering and said Detroit wants the growth restriction which alternate "D" would impose upon communities participating in the program.

Huron pupils slate 'Oliver Twist' play

"Oliver Twist", the novel made famous by Charles Dickens, will be presented Jan. 20 and 21 at Huron High School by a cast of junior and senior high and elementary school students.

Re-created by Lionel Bart, the famous play is now known simply as "Oliver". Filled with catchy lyrics and toe-tapping music, villains and saints, melodrama and guffaws, innocence and intrigue, "Oliver" is certain to appeal to persons of all ages.

Forty-five boys and girls from all the junior high and elementary schools in the Huron School District — both public and parochial — tried out for the show, and many got parts: Kevin Fakhoury; John Chappo, Charley Bates, Sandee Cobb, Pat Fergusson, Arlene Frazier, Chris Garner, Randy Gibson, Ann Glaab, Claudia Hagedon, Tim Hickman, Lisa Horn, Andrea Hutchinson, Michelle Laura, Karen Lindsey, Pam Lowe, Mike Marshall, Matt McKimney, Neal Neal Neifert, Tracy Neifert, Rick Pinter, Elaine Price, Joanne Price, Alice Renton, Jack Richert, Jackie Richert, Jill Richert, Sarah Richert, Diana Rogalle, Kara Rogalle, Tabitha Sanders, Melinda Shearer, Cheryl Simpson, Richard Symans, Robert Symans, Natalie Vass, Darren Wilkenson, and Bambi Mason.

A sizeable number of high school students also auditioned, and the following are in the cast: Paula Cains, Vera Chapman, Bob Chappo; Oliver, Terry Cobb; Charlotte, Joan Cooke; Mrs. Sowerberry, Emery Crandall, Lester Dionne; Noah, Don Eldred; Mr. Bumble, Carl Ellis; policeman, Susan Engel; old lady, Rhonda Fakhoury; widow Corney, Annette Fritts, Amy Gajda; Nancy, John Garner; Dr. Grimwig, Kim Gibson, Julie Gilliam, John Hodge; policeman, Laura Hunt; milkmaid, Renae Kalfayan, Vikki Karvelis, Pam Krzyski; old Sally, Vera LaMew, Gina Maini, Susan Milatz; Mrs. Bedwin, Jay Miller; Mr. Sowerberry, Steve Miller; Fagin, Larry Pustelak; Bill Sikes, Tony Quasano; Mr. Brownlow, Cheryl Roberts; Rose Seller, Donna Schonscheck; Rose Seller, Kathy Scarborough, Teresa Shearer (choreographer), Jenny Smith; Bet (also choreographer), Kathy St. Amour, Scott Whitehouse.

Ticket prices are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. They are available from cast members and parents of some of the cast members, or can be obtained by making out a check to Huron High School and mailing with a self-addressed stamped envelope to the high school, c/o Mr. H. W. Fawcett, and tickets will be mailed back. A note should explain what tickets are issued and telephone number. Tickets may be used either night. There are no reserved seats.

City, schools hold luncheon

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Marvin Fischer raises his hand to acknowledge introduction at a recent luncheon in the Romulus High School Romulette attended by school administrators and city department heads. The meeting, the first of its kind, was the idea of the City-School Committee, formed six months ago to encourage cooperation between the schools and the city. Other projects undertaken by the committee include

John T. Cant is dead at 57

John T. Cant, 57, a building inspector for the city of Romulus for the last 12 years, died at 5 p.m. in the intensive care unit of Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Cant, who had suffered from congestive heart failure, was hospitalized Dec. 19 and had remained a patient there until his death. He had been ill with the heart condition for several years.

He was born Dec. 12, 1921 in Wayne, the son of Joseph and Esther Cant. Prior to his employment with the city of Romulus, Cant had worked as a commercial carpenter in the area for many years.

He served with the U. S. Armed Forces during World War II and was twice decorated with the Purple Heart. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Westland and the VFW Post in Romulus.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Saturday at St. John's Episcopal Church in Westland, the Rev. Thomas Wilson officiating. Burial was in the Romulus Cemetery.

Surviving are: his wife, Olive; a son, Joseph of Naples, Fla.; three daughters, Mrs. Sharon Gamber of Belleville; Mrs. Peggy Slater of Romulus; and Jacqueline Cant of Naples, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Jeffries of Romulus; and Mrs. Edith Allen of Waters, Mich.; and three grandchildren.

Council asks audit status

A progress report on the status of the on-going city audit was asked for by Romulus City Council Wednesday night.

Council directed that the auditing firm conducting the audit bring them up to date on the long overdue measure at the next council session. Usually, the audits are begun after the end of the fiscal year June 30 and completed shortly thereafter.

Appointed to EDC

Mrs. Theresa Washington Wednesday night was appointed by the Romulus City Council to fill a vacancy on the city's nine-member Economic Development Corporation.

The vacancy occurred when her husband, Willie Washington, resigned due to the press of personal business.

HAROLD REDISKE JR.

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT OUR
"NO-PAYMENT" PRE-PLAN PROGRAM?

Did you know you can pre-plan funeral services at no charge? You can. It will cost you nothing at all to make your wishes known as to your choice of service, casket, music, specific readings from Scripture — even arrange for your favorite flowers and your clergyman. And these arrangements-in-advance can be made without cost or obligation.

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT: First, come in and complete our Pre-Planning Form with our help. The form covers all the above-mentioned choices and many others. Second, you will receive copies of the Form for safekeeping with your lawyer, accountant, designated estate administrator or family member. Third, a copy remains with us which you may review from time-to-time and update as you require.

Pre-Payment Options: Several pre-payment plans are available, too, if you choose to pay in advance. But pre-planning does not necessarily mean pre-payment. Stop by for full details.

TRY IT FOR 30 NIGHTS...

'Y' armchair travelers to visit Greek islands

THE PARTHENON Athens, Greece

The islands of Greece will be the next stop for armchair travelers through the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA's Travel and Adventure series.

Travelers will "depart" at 8:15 p.m. Saturday from Wayne Memorial High School in Wayne of a film journey entitled "Greek Islands Odyssey".

Robin Williams will narrate and introduce the travelers to the history and hospitality of the Greek people at every stop. Travelers will see Athens with the Parthenon visible from almost every street; and Piraeus, the port of Athens, will offer a visit of yachts, outdoor cafes and people feasting on local seafoods.

Corfu, the first island stop, has a lovely bay and the Grottoes of Palaikastris. See the Monastery of Our Lady of Vlacherna, an old Venetian fortress. Roam the town of Corfu and see girls dancing in native costumes. Golf at the Kerkira and water ski or hang glide at Club Mediterraneo.

On the island of Cos travelers will visit with night fishermen, returning from the sea and meet a young couple who are bicycling through the countryside. Patmos is the location of the Monastery of St. John, and travelers will see the holy cave of the Apocalypse, where St. John wrote "Revelations."

A popular tourist island of the Cyclades is Mykonos. Learn about life on the island today and see Mykonos by night. Dance the rhythmic "Sirtaki" with the local people.

In Rhodes the tour will explore the old city and the Castle of the Knights of St. John and see the Rodini Garden where Cicero studied oratory. Rhodian rural life is simple and appealing in the village of Archangelos, where the travelers will see many costumes and learn about local customs.

On the sponge driver's island of Kalymnos, travelers will lunch in the village of Myrtess and enjoy the Greek custom of wandering through the kitchen to select favorite Greek dishes.

Delos Santorini, Crete, Knossos

and Matala also are stops in the tour's itinerary.

"Reservations" for the trip can be made by contacting the YMCA at 721-7044. The high school is located at the corner of Fourth Street and Glenwood in Wayne.

Emam Deen Muhammed to lecture

They have changed from the Nation of Islam, also are called as Black Muslims in American, and today are known as the World Community of Al-Islam in the West.

Why the change? Do Jews, Muslims and Christians worship together? How was this change brought about? Under what leadership did this Black Muslim come under and why?

Those are some of the questions that will be discussed at 1 p.m. Jan. 14 in Hill Auditorium on the campus of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor during Eman Wallace Dean Muhammad Day.

The lecture is only part of a day-long program to honor Eman Wallace Dean Muhammad. Dedication and awards will be presented to him from leaders throughout the state.

Eman Muhammad, whose "this is the way it is" has electrified people from Chicago to China, will be presenting the special free lecture at the auditorium, located at 825 N. University, Ann Arbor.

There also will be an Islamic Educational Banquet at 5 p.m. that same day at Weber's Inn, 3050 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor.

The banquet costs $15 per person and includes a fashion show from the World of Islamic Fashions and kosher-style dinner.

Tickets are available by contacting Masjid Jose Bell Joshua of Inkster at 278-5752.

Dean Davis to be honored Feb. 21

The dean of the School of Engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology, Dr. Stephen R. Davis, has been chosen Michigan Engineer for 1979.

Dean Davis, a Belleville resident, will be honored at the Annual Gold Award Banquet Feb. 21 at the Engineering Society of Detroit. The prestigious award is given annually to the outstanding engineer who has made significant contributions to his profession.

Davis was chosen by a committee comprised of members of the Engineering Society of Detroit from business, industry and the academic world.

As dean of engineering at LIT since 1973, Davis has created a vigorous educational climate by using his industrial experience to modify the Southfield college's curricula to meet career requirements of industry. LIT's School of Engineering offers baccalaureate degrees in construction, electrical and mechanical engineering.

Under his leadership, the school has received accreditations from the Engineers Council for Professional Development, giving the college national recognition, as well as increasing the opportunities available for graduates. This professional recognition also led to the establishment of the Michigan Eta Chapter of the Tau Beta Pi Engineering Honor Society.

Davis has initiated and supported student and faculty affiliation with other professional societies and has developed an impressive program of guest speakers for the college. The Society of Automotive Engineers Student Chapter recently was honored for the fourth consecutive year by the SAE National Headquarters and presented the prestigious Bendix Award as the "Outstanding Student Branch." The chapter also received first prize for the best exhibit at the SAE 1978 International World Congress.

Recognized for his expertise in industrial energy conservation and utilization, Dr. Davis lectures nationally and is a consultant for the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Command, U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Department of Defense, Argonne National Laboratory, Forging Industry Association, Du Pont Company and Westinghouse Electric Company.

Active in many professional organizations, he is chairman of the State of Michigan Joint Commission on Energy for the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers and the Michigan Association of the Professions, chairman of the Michigan Conference of Engineering Deans and former chairman of the Council for Industry Education Committee of the American Society of Engineering Education. He was elected to the College of Fellows of the Engineering Society of Detroit in 1977.

Prior to coming to LIT, Dean Davis was associate dean of graduate studies and research at Wayne State University. He has taught at the University of Delaware, University of Illinois, and presently teaches courses in Combustion Engines and Energy Conservation as well as participating in continuing education at Ford Motor Co. and Detroit Edison.

Dr. Davis earned his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Drexel University, his master of echanical engineering from the University of Delaware and his doctor of philosophy in mechanical engineering from the University of Illinois.

He and his wife Fay have two sons, Steve and Greg.

In the armed forces

Noel takes AF training

Airman Charles J. Noel Jr., the son of Charles J. Noel Sr. of Oakbrook, Romulus, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., in the Air Force communications electronics systems field.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and studied the Air Force mission, customs and organization, and received special instruction in human relation.

Completion of the training earned him credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Noel is a 1978 graduate of Romulus Senior High School. His mother, Mrs. Roberta L. Bonkoski lives in Hartland, Mich.

Also in the armed forces: Marine Pfc. Eddie S. Bennett, the son of Boyd H. and Julia Bennett of Beverly Road, Romulus, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with 1st Marine Division, Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

A 1976 graduate of Romulus Senior high School, he joined the marine Corps in October 1977.

U.S. Air Force S. Sgt. Jack D. Roberts, the son of Mrs. Rose E. Roberts of Curwood Street, Drayton Plains, Mich., has arrived for duty at Clark Air Base, Philippines.

Roberts, an inventory management supervisor with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, previously served at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

The sergeant attended Waterford-Kettering High School, Waterford. His wife, Sally, is the daughter of Avis Saughtner of New Boston.

Elaine B. Nitos, the daughter of Spiros Niphoratos of Ball, Romulus, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Nitos, selected through competitive examination for attendance at the school, now goes to Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., for training and duty as a mechanical engineer.

CHARLES NOEL JR.

The lieutenant, a 1972 graduate of Warren High School, received a bachelor of mechanical engineering degree in 1977 at General Motors Institute, Flint, Mich.

The first iron printing press to be used was the Stanhope press, invented by Charles, the third Earl of Stanhope in 1786.

Animal tracks to be studied

Track identification will be discussed during a 1½-hour long program entitled "Tracks: Stories in the Snow" at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Sunday at 10 a.m.

Identifying animal tracks in the snow can be a fun, yet a frustrating, winter activity. But with a little practice, you can learn most of the common animal tracks of this area. Naturalist Steve Horn will use slides and display animals to show differences in tracks and then will lead an outdoor hike to search for various tracks and talk about the stories behind them.

Advanced registration is required for this free program, as are vehicle entry permits — annual regular, $7, senior citizen, $2, or daily, $2.

For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

SUFFERING NEEDLESSLY?

Millions are turning to chiropractic because they are recognizing the scientific principles of nature that have made spinal adjustments effective for many conditions where other methods have failed. The chart below shows the lateral view of the spinal column and indicates in section "A" names of the spinal nerves as they branch from the spinal cord and exit through openings between the vertebrae. All tissues, glands and organs supplied with life energy by these nerves are shown in the section marked "B" in the chart. The section marked "C" describes a partial list of the conditions and symptoms that can result when there is an absence of life in the nerves.

B. Area Supplied by Nerves	A. Side View of Spine	C. Results of Nerve Impingement
Blood supply to the head, the pituitary gland, the scalp, bones of the face, the brain itself, inner and middle ear, the sympathetic nervous system.	1C	Headaches, nervousness, insomnia, head colds, high blood pressure, migraine headaches, mental conditions, nervous breakdowns, amnesia, epilepsy, infantile paralysis, sleeping sickness, chronic tiredness, dizziness or vertigo, St. Vitus dance.

		Hemorrhoids or piles, pruritus or itching, pain at end of spine on sitting.

SPINAL NERVE INVOLVEMENT CAUSES MANY CONDITIONS

The spinal chart shown above is directed especially to those people who have tried to regain their health through methods other than chiropractic, and have failed. That failure should not lead to discouragement, but to greater determination to discover the fundamental cause of all disease.

Since the discovery of chiropractic, no one needs to feel that he or she is destined to be sick all their life. Remember, "Where there is life there is hope and he who has hope has everything."

Public hearings air future roles of airports

Some 500 Wayne County employees were forced back into the ranks of the unemployed late last month due to a cutback in federally-funded public service jobs.

The cutback in Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) eliminated jobs in 15 county agencies, many of which were limited duration special projects.

Those affected generally made $8,000 per year and worked in seven county agencies and eight public agencies outside the county government.

The largest bloc of layoffs hit four educational institutions where a total of 179 teacher and office aides, clerical and custodial workers were let go. The Wayne County Intermediate School District lost 131, University of Michigan-Dearborn, 32; and the Highland Park and Huron school districts, each 16.

The Wayne County Road Commission lost 128 laborers, most of whom were employed in a park maintenance program.

Wayne County Office on Aging lost 39 workers who were employed in the senior citizens nutrition program, telephone reassurance program, adult day care, minor home repair and clerical positions.

Communities United For Action (CUFA), the Federally-assisted economic opportunity agency for suburban Wayne County, lost 75 persons who worked in home repair and winterization programs for low-income agencies were Family and Neighborhood Services (22), Downriver Community Conference (22), R.E.A.L., a Downriver mental health project (6).

County agencies losing CETA workers also include the Clerk's file modernization project (23), Sheriff's department (8), TB task force (7), 4-H Youth project (6), and the Prosecuting Attorney (3). They worked in clerical jobs.

This year's federal allocation of $27.9 million required a 20 percent reduction in the number of long-term public service employment jobs with the county and community agencies under jurisdiction of his office, according to Arthur Lewis, director of the Wayne County Office of Manpower (WCOM).

The county office administers the CETA program for 40 of the 43 municipalities in Wayne County. Because of their size, Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia handle their own programs.

Lewis said a placement program has been set up to help the laidoff workers find jobs in the private sector or other CETA job or training positions.

Lewis said local communities have been asked to return any CETA funds they cannot use so that the money may be used to reinstate laid-off participants. Those recalled will be residents of the communities which return funds, he added.

Lewis said the CETA work force in Wayne County doubled to about 4,000 last year, but due to funding restrictions, has to be reduced back to about 2,000 by the end of the current fiscal year, which began Oct. 1.

"We hope to accomplish this by attrition which has been running about 15 percent per month, but probably won't continue at that level. We will have to look at the situation by the end of March. More layoffs may be necessary," Lewis said.

In all, Lewis said, programs funded through his office will have to be reduced by a total of about $5 million this year.

Witnesses attend regional meeting

Some 1,173 Jehovah's witnesses from three Inkster congregations, in cooperation with congregations from Belleville and Westland, recently attended a two-day regional meeting at the group's assembly hall on Grand River in Detroit.

The witnesses were exhorted to know how to meet the test of Christian loyalty and emphasized was the spiritual thought found in Jeremiah 1:19, which states: "They will not prevail against you for I (Jehovah) am with you...to deliver you," a spokesperson said.

The theme of Christian loyalty was carried throughout the assembly, addressing it to disciple making, personal Bible study and Christian training in everyday life. Many experiences were heard from both young and old alike as to how they strive to remain loyal to Jehovah God and his son, Jesus Christ, the spokesperson added.

The main discourse was entitled "Meeting the Test of Christian Loyalty" and was delivered by H. Fetzik, a traveling representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

"Christian loyalty means meeting all tests, including marriage, raising children, society problems and tests within the Christian congregation," Fetzik said.

The normal schedule of activities at the Inkster Kingdom Hall of the Jehovah's Witnesses resumed Monday. The hall is located at 3041 S. John Daly, Inkster.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE TO FAMILIES WHO LIVED IN PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECTS OPERATED BY THE ROMULUS HOUSING COMMISSION OR LIVED IN PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECTS IN ANY OTHER CITY BETWEEN MARCH 16, 1971, - SEPTEMBER 26, 1975.

If you rented a house or apartment from the ROMULUS HOUSING COMMISSION or any other Public Housing Agency (PHA) during the period between March 16, 1971, and September 26, 1975, you may be eligible to file a claim for a refund of part of your rent during that period if:

1. The wife or husband of the head of the household was present and dependent upon the head of the household for support and/or;
2. a dependent member of your family household was employed.

If you believe your family falls within one of the categories described above, you may wish to continue reading this Notice in order to determine how and under what circumstances you may file a claim.

On July 7, 1978, the District Court of the District of Columbia entered a Stipulated Order providing that the definition of family income for purposes of computing maximum rentals for public housing, as contained in a HUD Circular, which excluded spouses from the $300 deduction for each dependent and excluded dependents from the $300 deduction for each secondary wage earner, was invalid and violated the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended. The effect of this determination is that certain families who lived in public housing during the period from March 16, 1971, to September 26, 1975, may have been charged too much rent. Therefore, the District Court ordered HUD to establish a one million dollar fund for the payment of claims which current or former tenants of public housing may submit for a refund of any overpayments.

The District Court's Stipulated Order provides that, if valid claims exceed one million dollars, HUD has the option of having the Order dissolved in which case NTO and HUD may negotiate a modified settlement or proceed with further litigation. Thus, claimants should realize that the submittal of a claim determined valid by a PHA may result in full, partial, or no payment, depending on the total amount of valid claims submitted to HUD, or the final outcome of any further litigation. Any person wishing to receive a copy of the Stipulated Order or a claim form may do so by making their request known to a local PHA.

Individuals wishing to submit a claim must fill in the claim form made a part of this Notice and must submit it to the Public Housing Agency's address indicated on the claim form, or such other appropriate Public Housing Agency if different from the address indicated, within 120 days from Dec. 6, 1978. No claims will be accepted after the end of the 120 day period, April 6, 1979.

Information provided by the claimant on the claim form must be specific as to the time period between March 16, 1971, and September 26, 1975, for which the wife or husband of the head of the household was present and was a dependent and/or a dependent in the household was employed.

Publish every week until April 4

Editorial opinions

Your help will improve your paper

As we begin the new year, it is appropriate for us to remind our readers of the procedures for dealing with their local newspaper.

We have heard that some groups and organizations have experienced difficulty when they wished to have a project or program covered by their paper.

Obviously it is not in our best interest, or the best interest of those groups, to fall victim to a communication problem which could result in poor local coverage of the community.

For that reason, then, we provide the following information:

How does one go about getting a news item published in the paper? A common question asked by hundreds of individuals and groups throughout the community.

Because the question has been asked so frequently in the past, and will probably be asked again in the future, Associated Newspapers is devoting this space to a detailed explanation of how to improve the chances that your story will make the pages of your newspaper.

A community group or civic organization should suggest that their group give one person the responsibility of dealing with the paper. That person should come into the office and discuss with the news editor, the paper's deadline for news items in your community, the type of photographs suitable for inclusion in the paper, and the identifying information for photographs.

In addition, the person delegated the responsibility for working with the paper should make an attempt to gain an understanding of procedures employed by the newspaper.

An individual who wishes to place an item in the paper should also contact the news editor for deadlines and the proper procedures for preparing news material and photos for submission.

In general, any item submitted to your paper will have a better chance of getting in if a few simple guidelines are followed.

Always type submitted material, if possible. It is time-consuming and costly for the newspaper to type material that is submitted in handwritten form. Further, some people write illegibly and it is almost impossible to read their information.

When typing information for the story, start the story in the middle of the first sheet of paper. By leaving the top half of the sheet blank, the editor has space to instruct the typesetters on how to set the story. The space at the top of the paper will also be used to instruct the composition department on what page the material will be printed.

Again, if material is typed, it should be triple spaced. This will allow the editor to correct spelling and grammatical errors. Single-spaced letters do not provide any space for those corrections.

If the material is submitted handwritten, it should also be triple-spaced on lined paper, and the material should be printed rather than written.

Handwritten stories that are submitted single spaced must always be typed by the editorial staff prior to printing. This additional effort will require more time by the paper, and consequently, the article may appear in the paper late.

Photographs which accompany any news item submitted to the paper should be black and white, no smaller than two inches square or larger than 8 by 10 inches. All photographs should have the name of the subjects printed on the back, and also the name of the person they are to be returned to.

Color photographs sometimes can be used, but may be rejected by the photo editor, if he believes they will not reproduce properly.

If a photograph is necessary to properly support the news item sent in, a call well in advance of the activity should be made to request that a photographer be assigned.

While it is impossible for the paper to assign a photographer to all the requested events, we will make every effort to cover events of a broad general interest.

These few simple guidelines will considerably improve the chances of a submitted story making it into the paper.

While we are dedicated to serving the community, it only stands to reason that articles properly prepared will be handled the fastest, and there are times when we will have no one available for handling those articles that may require special treatment.

Never request that your news item be taken over the phone. This practice leads to errors and if the article is worth printing, it is worth printing correctly.

Clip this article from the paper and keep it handy for those times when you might wish to submit an article to the paper.

By following these guidelines, you will make our job easier and your article better.

We are standing by waiting to hear from you.

Working together, we can build a better community.

'I hope your caps fall off!'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

With Michigan's new bottle law almost two months old, I would like to comment on the implications of the new act as it affects life at the ole homestead.

As the father of three sons, two of whom are beer can collectors, the passage of the returnable bottle law has made life just a little easier for me.

In the past, when Mark and Scott took to the fields in search of cans to round out their collection, they were very selective about the cans that ultimately returned home with them.

After the shelves in the house were filled to overflowing with the rusted, dented hulks from proud brewmaster's, the task of finding any new candidate for the collection was narrowed considerably. But still they came.

No more. At least not much any more.

With passage of the new law requiring deposits on bottles and cans, the daily search for empty bottles and cans has now taken on a new perspective.

No longer am I deluged with empty cans. Now it's the Corkscrew Party Store that gets the kids' business.

With the deposit on bottles and cans considerably higher now than when I was a youth, the rewards for the search are also higher.

I vividly recall my youthful days spent patrolling the local alleys.

A good day's haul would amount to maybe 15 bottles (there were no cans then).

Those bottles would yield $.02 each for a total of $.30. That much money, in the 1940s, would buy a ticket to the local theatre for $.12, a bottle of pop for $.05, a Holloway sucker for $.05 and a package of Necco Waffers for $.05.

In addition to the bottles I collected, the caps of those bottles were also valuable.

By removing the cork seal from under the cap, the cap could be affixed to a tee shirt by placing the cap on the outside of the shirt and from the inside, pushing the cork seal back into the cap.

I remember the status of the person with the most varied collection of bottle caps attached to his shirt. But talk about a 'hair shirt'.

Today, the motive for the collection of bottles and cans is the same. Extra spending money. But those responsible for redeeming those bottles and cans often have not had the same experiences as I, and consequently do not appreciate the efforts of our youth to keep the streets picked-clean.

To the credit of most businessmen, the transition from throw-aways to returnables has been made easy.

Bob and Chris at the Corkscrew are typical examples.

With a daily stream of youngsters into their store to redeem the deposits on the bottles they have managed to find, the pair have been busy.

But like most people in that business, Bob and Chris have made the adjustment.

They have managed to maintain their smiles in the face of the rising pile of returned bottles and cans. That is to their benefit, the kids' benefit, and my benefit also.

To all the businessmen who have greeted our new youthful entrepreneurs with kindness, thank you.

To those businessmen who refuse to take those bottles, give the kids a hard-time, or throw them out of the store, let me say this.

"I hope all of your bottle caps fall off of your tee shirt!"

Health Beat

More on smoking and health

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

From time to time as we write this column, we find it appropriate to lift many of our words from other publications.

Such will be the case today. The Michigan Heart Association (MHA) continues to put out invaluable new releases which, in our judgment, ought to be available to others beside those in the health care delivery industry.

As one might easily suspect, much of what MHA has to say deals with a type of preventive philosophy. A philosophy which says that if you conduct yourself in certain ways, perhaps your life experience might be more gratifying.

Thus today, tobacco is going to be our whipping boy. MHA tells us that Americans smoked over 600 billion cigarettes last year; the average cost per smoker was approximately $259.00.

Richard Antell, MD, an internist with offices in Flint, is the President of the MHA. He said that here has been an alarming increase in smoking among teen-age girls, a slight change among women smokers, and only a small decrease in the number of middle-aged male smokers.

"All of this is startling," he said, "when you consider the mounting evidence that cigarette smoking is bad for one's health."

"Educated estimates tell us that cigarette smoking is responsible for more than 325,000 premature deaths each year in the U.S."

"Research is now beginning to uncover the reasons for tobacco-related health problems."

He cited just one example of this research. Cigarette smoke seems to speed up dramatically the natural deterioration of tiny arteries inside the heart which fuel the muscles that enable the heart to pump blood.

According to Dr. Antell, the researcher in a post-mortem examination found the arteries of a 40-year who had been a smoker for 20 years looked like the arteries of a 70-year old who had never smoked.

"These tiny arteries supply vital oxygen to a series of fibers which carry electrical impulses that control heartbeat. When those fibers are deprived of well-oxygenated blood, they can cause abnormal heart rhythm which may lead to sudden death."

Research has also surfaced the fact that cigarette smoke contains a dozen gases which are proved health hazards.

Among these gases is carbon monoxide — the same lethal gas present in automobile exhaust.

Carbon monoxide forces oxygen out of the red blood cells.

When one is smoking, 90 percent of the nicotine — another undesirable constituent of tobacco — is absorbed into the body when the smoke is inhaled. And, even if you don't inhale, 10 percent of the nicotine finds its way into your system.

Cigarette smoking increases both blood pressure and the rate of heart beat. We feel it's safe to say that such increases artificially induced by tobacco do little for one's health.

Dr. Antell said that there are some encouraging facts if one is willing and able to quit smoking. "If you stop lighting up, your risk of heart attack and stroke gradually decreases almost to the level of one who has never smoked."

"Post heart attack patients who quit smoking cut their chances of premature death and further coronary attacks by 50 percent."

The doctor concluded by saying, "Our slogan at Michigan Heart Association is 'We're Fighting for Your Life'. If we are to be successful, we need your help too."

If you smoke, quit. If you don't smoke, don't start."

Customer questions bottle policy

Editor:

Why should the Belleville A&P store insist on your signature when you return bottles for the deposit?

Maybe we as customers, should insist on a receipt from the A&P management whenever we return empty bottles to the store.

It seems to me that the A&P policy is both unfair and illegal.

Nothing in the Michigan Annotated Act No. 445.571, the new returnable bottle law, indicates that such a signature is necessary before receiving a deposit refund.

Raymond C. Sopha
Belleville

Editor's note:

According to a recent ruling from Michigan's Attorney General Frank Kelley, the only requirement for returnable bottles and cans deposits is that the containers be relatively clean and undamaged. Signing a receipt is not required by the state.

About jailing

Editor:

The reasons given by Judge Charles Kaufman for jailing the Van Buren Township officials, hides an important issue.

I believe speculators' greed underlies this action.

The mobile home park developer can construct a sewer to connect to existing township facilities.

Why doesn't he? A permit could be granted.

He prefers the Ypsilanti Township sewer connection because it is closer and therefore cheaper.

Profit is his motive.

He would jeopardize the health and welfare of the township. He would help destroy the recreation of thousands of Wayne County citizens.

How long must we endure the despoliation of our lake?

I believe our township should question the motives and interests of this judge, whom we helped elect.

Gratifying stories

EDITOR:

The last edition of the Romulus Roman in 1978, contained two articles which gratified me very much.

The first, on the Romulus revitalization program, recognizes the need for a cosmetic change of the face of this city.

Romulus is a warm, caring community with many facets which make it a fine place to live; but it lacks the charm and beauty found in other small towns.

My appreciation goes to all the people responsible for those efforts expended to create a better and more attractive city.

The second article, on the city and school's efforts to tell of their accomplishments, is long overdue. Positive comments on city and school affairs are necessary to develop interest and pride among citizens. Things such as the recent school cutbacks and full page articles in a Detroit paper on noise pollution from the airport need to be counter-balanced by the good news which happens everyday in our town.

I was especially pleased to learn about the tentative plans for the Roman to have a page devoted to school affairs. More involvement in the concerns of our younger citizens is necessary to show we care and are proud of their accomplishments.

More involvement of the children in their community affairs can only have good results. Good news breeds more good news.

EDITOR:

I want to thank you very much for having my letter published in the Eagle. And I want to thank all the wonderful people for sending me cards and letters. I received a good bit of mail and it made me very happy.

I am a 54-year old disabled veteran of World War II. I was wounded 3 times, in action in the Battle of the Bulge.

I had 13 operations and I had to have both legs amputated. I lived in Wayne from 1958-1959 for 18 months.

I was rushed to the Guernsey Memorial Hospital here in Cambridge, Ohio on the 23rd of Dec. 1978 with a severe heart attack.

I spent 5 days and 5 nights on intensive care. I came home from the hospital today. I am feeling a little better.

It would make me happy to receive get well cards letters or a birthday card from the wonderful people from Wayne and the surrounding areas while I am recuperating from my heart attack.

My birthday is January 12th

UFO's

EDITOR:

Because of all the recent discussions and new reported sightings of UFOs (Unidentified Flying Objects), I thought I would write and tell you about an experience I had in 1965 and again in 1966.

I saw an inverted cup shaped UFO that appeared to have windows or vents lined a round its outside surface.

The bottom of the saucer appeared to rotate in an opposite direction from the top half. The craft sounded much like a conventional helicopter, and the sound was loud enough for anyone in the area to hear.

From my vantage point, the craft appeared to be suspended from a nearby tree, but the thrust from the engines was creating a large wind that picked up and swirled the dust beneath it.

On the Brighter Side

'The Mouse that Roared'
(with laughter)

It was the lull before the storm. The newspaper office was unusually quiet as I sat at my desk and studied the agenda of an upcoming meeting. Machines that usually clattered to interrupt our telephone conversations were silent. Not even the clacking of a typewriter disturbed my train of thought.

Suddenly, out of the corner of my eye I saw a small dark blur dart across the floor and under my desk. Instinctively I quickly raised my feet and rolled back my chair from the desk. My first impression was that someone had thrown a wadded up piece of dark paper that sailed under my chair.

Looking up, I glanced over to a nearby desk where our staff artist, Patricia Croo, was standing and talking on the telephone. "Was that a mouse?" I asked, hoping she would allay my fears.

"It sure was!", she confirmed, pointing a finger toward my desk. "It ran right under there." Since little ole mice didn't scare us, we made a quick search of the area. Pat didn't see any sign of the critter and I didn't either, although my vision was a little obscured as I stood on her shoulders.

Our conversation about the dark furry mouse attracted the attention of our ace Westland reporter, Maureen. "Don't call me honey" Camps, who calmly screamed, "DID YOU SAY THERE'S A MOUSE? WHERE?"

Faster than a speeding bullet she landed on her chair with both knees. With a single bound she was atop her desk, her eyes as wide as Little Orphan Annie's. "You're not kidding me, are you?" she asked Pat and me.

Pat assured her she had seen the mouse and I agreed that I had seen a dark blur out of the corner of my eye. Grabbing the biggest club she could find, Maureen slowly made her way around a couple of desks to confront the "black blur". "Where did it go?" she demanded, her voice rising another octave with each syllable.

I tried to calm her. "Don't worry, it's probably more scared than you are." However, as I looked into the bleached white face of the stricken reporter, I had second thoughts about who was more scared of whom.

Maureen's desk is in front of mine along the wall where the black blur disappeared under the heating register. Mustering her strength, she flexed her muscles and pushed her desk a good two feet from the wall. "There. That will be a lot better," she said, looking cautiously toward the wall where the furry, blurry little creature might be lurking behind a pencil.

When she left on an assignment a little later, she said, "Jim, while I'm gone don't let anyone move my desk back toward the wall, okay?" I agreed to keep all furniture re-arrangers unemployed during her absence.

Now you won't believe this, but that little mouse came walking slowly across my desk with a piece of cheese in one hand. In the other hand was a copy of the book, "How To Win Friends and Influence People." He leaned against the telephone and tried to tell me his side of the story.

"You know, you people are really silly," he began. "Just about everyone of you gets uptight and I'm down there laughing at all the shivering, frightened people. All I have to do is run lickety-split across the floor and shrieks of fear fill the air. It's really fun!"

I admitted that many of us humans had a dislike for him and his furry friends. "That's because you've never taken time to get to know us," he explained. The only time you see us is when we race across the floor or when you visit our funeral when the mouse trap is emptied.

Just before he left, he asked, "Do you know what we give mice that die?" I said I didn't. "Mouse-to-mouse resuscitation," he chortled. Then he asked if he could take my picture as a remembrance and I thought it wouldn't hurt.

Then he pointed his camera at me and said, "Say Cheese!"

"Oh, get out of here," I said impatiently.

Many people have had funny (maybe odd would be a better word) experiences with mice.

Pat Croo, one of our crew, told me an experience she had with some small mice in her home when she was a sophomore in high school. Four females were saved from the ravages of the tiny rodents by a mild-mannered, soft-spoken uncle.

Mrs. Patricia Gresock, a secretary in the Vocational Education program at Romulus High School, had a mouse walk out into the middle of her office floor and sit down. She jumped onto the middle of her desk on all fours and waited for the little rascal to leave. He just sat there.

A short time later, Pat's boss, Al Sheffield, passed through her office and said, "Hi", and was so engrossed in thought he didn't even realize Pat was stranded atop her desk on all fours. "That's how much attention he pays to me," she kiddingly said at the time.

Have you ever lived in a one-room basement apartment and shared living quarters with a mouse? We have. Pansy and I had just gotten married and moved into a rented basement apartment after returning from our honeymoon at Lookout Mountain in Chatanooga, Tenn. It was "Lookout" all over again as we went to bed that night.

As we lay in bed in the darkness, we heard the patter of tiny feet (and it wasn't our first baby, either!). We heard the mouse skitter along the top of the wall moulding, which was just above our heads. It scurried along the small ledge and all of a sudden when it reached the far wall there was a loud KER-PLUNK!

He had fallen into the wastebasket and I seized my opportunity. I grabbed the wastebasket and took care of that little ole mouse for good. I won't say how I disposed of it but I can tell you that mouse was not a very good swimmer.

Although both men and women are a little squeamish when it comes to mice, usually women are more afraid. John Steinbeck made a mint writing, "Of Mice and Men." Maybe I can write a sequel entitled, "Of Mice and Women."

If you have an unusual incident that happened to you concerning mice, I'd like you to write and tell me about it.

In the meantime, let's be thankful that most mice don't live very long. However, Mickey Mouse did just celebrate his 50th birthday — far longer than the life expectancy of most mice.

And he didn't even need "mouse-to-mouse" resuscitation.

'Mother of Israel'

By Les Kinsolving

In early 1948, almost nobody gave the Jews in Palestine any chance of survival, what with the massing of five Arab armies with artillery, armor and air forces — against Piper cubs, home-made mortars, assorted rifles, "no alternative" and a Jewish mother, who surely enters the history books as one of the most extraordinary women who ever lived.

Israel's modern Moses named David Ben Gurion said of her that when the history of Israel is written, it will be recorded that this state was saved by a woman. And so it was, as in 1947 when she returned to the United States where she was brought up; and in one month raised fifty million dollars.

"During these last years, the Jewish people have lost six million of their kind, and it would be presumptuous indeed of us to remind the Jews of the world that 750,000 Jews are in danger."

"In a few months, a Jewish state will exist. We shall have to fight for its birth. That is natural."

"We shall pay for it with our blood. That is normal."

"The best among us will fall. That is certain."

"But what is equally certain is that our morale will never waver — no matter how numerous our invaders may be."

Whether in her running of the murderous gauntlet of enemy gunfire on the road to a besieged Jerusalem, or secretly meeting in disguise and at enormous risk to her life in Jordan with King Abdullah, she was a national hero in the highest tradition of such Hebrew heroines as Deborah and Judith.

Labor leader, ambassador, foreign minister and Prime Minister, she was one of the toughest and most tireless people I have ever seen. She had one of the most delightful senses of humor, and so sensitive a soul as could make her weep, in the emotion of signing her country's Proclamation of Independence; while the Palestine Philharmonic, in a back room of that Tel Aviv museum, played the Hatikvah.

I remember her rugged features breaking into a great grin during a news conference, when I asked her an embarrassing question about a strong disagreement she had had with a then obscure cabinet minister named Menachem Begin — who was among those present when they laid her to rest on Mount Herzl.

The smile I remember was the same I recall in a full page picture of her that appeared in a New York newspaper on one of her last visits. Just her photograph, above the words:

"SHALOM GOLDA"
May she know the eternal peace of Shalom and may she also know the exhilaration of a larger life, having for 1 million of God's children been a massive reassurance that "The Lord is my light and my salvation whom then shall I fear; the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom then shall I be afraid?"

Reflections

This is the soap!

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Have you ever had something make you boiling mad?

Have you ever had something make you so mad that you have lost your cool and forgot that you are a lady ... or a gentleman, whichever the case might be?

The day after I had made out my New Year's Resolution that under no circumstance would I ever lost my dignity, that I would remember to remain cool and serene in spite of life's difficulties, I went swimming and immediately forgot all of my good resolves.

There he was, a big, hulking fellow who was the state swimming champ fifty years ago and never forgotten it.

Neither has he forgotten that he hates his mother ... or maybe it was his older sister, or his schoolteacher. Somewhere down the road of his life he developed this feeling about women which isn't good in the middle of an Olympic Size swimming pool when the woman who swims like a turtle isn't able to get out of his way fast enough.

He has this loose lip that wags a lot and a loose brain to complement it. Whatever, he made me lose my cool and not by ducking, either.

When I walked into my home there were two little grandchildren to greet me.

"Hi, grandma," they shouted. "We're going to spend the night."

"See, we brought our pajamas in our pillows," Mike shouted and then they noticed that their grandmother was making like a glump in the chair.

"What's the matter, Grandma?" they asked. "Aren't you glad we're going to spend the night?"

"Oh sure, she's really excited about that," the big kid kissing George (our dog) told them, and ruffling the dog's hair asked, "What's the matter Grandma?"

"I'm not your grandma," I told him automatically while trying to catch my breath from all the anger that was bottled up inside. That's when the little kid's grandfather came in the room and saw that his usually ebullient spouse was sitting like a glump in his chair.

"Hey, get out of the king's chair," he said, tipping the chair forward and spilling me out on the floor. Naturally this unleashed the anger and I came up fighting.

"Hey, hey," he shouted holding the chair pillow in front of him. "What's the matter with you?"

And I let it all spill out ... how the male chauvenist pig swimmer had called me a foul name, a dirty, filthy name ... and flailing my fists I began to sputter.

George (our dog) barked, my kid howled and my husband didn't know what to do, so he drank his coffee. It took Mike to put it all back together again.

"Gee, grandma," he beamed, his eyes popping out of his head. "Did that man call you a cuss word name?"

"He sure did," I hissed.

"Gee, is he lucky you didn't have no soap in your hand ..."

Winter campers give state parks a 'cold shoulder'

Winter campers are expected to give state-run campgrounds the cold shoulder and use Michigan's private parks in record numbers again this season, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Parent classes delayed

The Wayne County Department of Health has announced a one-week delay in the start of its winter series of classes for expectant parents.

The delay was due to an insufficient number of registrants.

One series of classes will be held at the South Health Center at 21201 Eureka, Taylor, and will start on Tuesday. The second series will be at the Department of Health facility located on Merriman Road north of Michigan Avenue in Westland. It will start next Wednesday.

The classes will use group discussion and will be led by a public health nurse. They will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. for six consecutive weeks on Tuesdays or Wednesdays respectively.

Members of the groups will discuss those questions and concerns about pregnancy, labor and delivery and infant care, which are of common interest to the group as a whole.

Since the size of the group will be limited, interested persons are urged to register as soon as possible. For registration or further information call the health department at 274-2800 or 729-2211, ext. 390, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

"Luxuries such as heated shower and toilet buildings, plus open park stores and game rooms were the attractions that lured winter campers away from state parks and to private campgrounds," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager. "Most private parks responding to an Auto Club survey reported an average 16 percent more business last winter compared to the previous season, while state park campgrounds open last winter registered a 24 percent drop in campers over the same period."

This season, winter campers in Michigan can select from 109 private and 56 state parks.

State park campgrounds offer only at-site electricity and water from central wells. Only a limited number of campsites and park roads are kept plowed.

"Most of the new business at private campgrounds last winter was cross-country skiers and snowmobilers," Ratke said. "This fall, many private park owners are making an effort to coax those customers back."

Thirty-three of the winterized private facilities on Auto Club's 1978-79 guide list adjacent groomed snowmobile or cross-country ski trails in state and national forests and two sell and service snowmobiles.

"Six parks have instituted guided snowmobile safaris on weekends and one near Copper Harbor in the Upper Peninsula sponsors snowmobile obstacle course races with cash prizes for best times," Ratke noted.

Cross-country skiers can rent equipment at five parks and enter an 11-mile-long, race or participate in family oriented courses and programs, at two others. Skiers at a private park near Gaylord can choose between in-park downhill or cross-country programs.

Private parks on Auto Club's guide charge an average $5.40 nightly for sites with electricity, which are available at 103 campgrounds listed. Prices range from $1 to $10. State parks listed charge $4 per night for a site with electricity and $2 for a primitive site. In addition, campers must purchase a $5 annual or $1 daily use permit.

While shower buildings at state parks are closed, heated shower buildings are open at 81 private parks and game rooms are available at 41. There are 26 parks with at-site sewage and 66 with disposal stations. Forty-nine parks keep stores open all year.

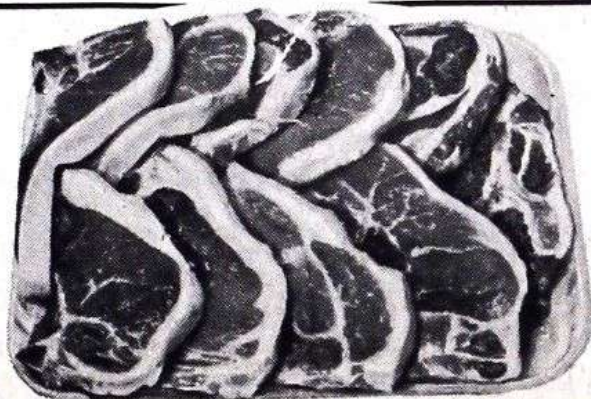

"Campers who want to avoid the hassle of pulling trailers north on slippery roads can store them at 79 parks or rent trailers at 11," Ratke added.

Glass, Ross win Schoolcraft titles

BY TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

With the lead exchanging hands at least five times during the two-day tournament, Farmington fostered enough team points to capture the prestigious Schoolcraft Wrestling Invitation Saturday night.

Farmington had a thin margin of two points over runnerup, Fenton, a Class B state power which was making its debut at the tournament. The champs collected 141½ points to Fenton's 139½, followed by Thurston (138), Mt. Clemens (135½), Ypsilanti and Plymouth Salem (133½) each.

Wayne Memorial, the defending champ, finished seventh with 120½ points, one notch above Class B state champ, New Boston Huron, which had 115½.

"It was one of the most evenly-matched tournaments in the history of this meet," commented Wayne Memorial's John Wood, "a barn-burner to the end. I would have liked to have won it by 40 points as we did a year ago, but, since we couldn't, I was happy to see that it was as competitive as it was."

It was also rumored that this year's invitational would be the last for Schoolcraft which reportedly is dropping wrestling from its program.

Area grapplers came away with their share of gold medals. Wayne's Joe Glass and Salem's Mark Ross looked impressive against some of the top talent in the state.

Glass, a 155-pounder, pinned Redford Thurston's Tom Newton in 1:36 of the finals to capture the title

The Tormentors

Wayne Memorial's Bob Payton (above) has the situation well in hand as he uses the "Pennsylvania stack" to torment Glenn's 132-pounder, Chris Potere, in their confrontation earlier in the year. Payton emerged off the mat with a victory by a fall in 4:53. However, Payton's team and teammate Ron Pittman (below) didn't fare so well. Westlander DeWright Barclay (white jersey) disposed of Pittman in 2:23 as Glenn remained undefeated in dual meet competition by winning their first ever dual meet over their arch rivals.

Burrus burns Trenton with 34 pt. performance

While Herb Burrus played, Trenton burned. Burrus, a sharpshooting senior Belleville guard, sank 10 of his career high 34 points in the second period to lead the Tigers to a 71-57 victory over the Trojans Friday night.

Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers, now 3-1 in the Suburban 8 Conference, tightened their hold on second place, one game out of first presently shared by Plymouth Salem and Livonia Bentley, the defending co-champs.

"We got off to a slow start against them (Trenton)," Niemi said, "and I have to attribute that to the holidays. But once we got going and thanks to Burrus' exceptional performance, we didn't have any trouble."

Trenton jumped out in front 18-13 after the first period, but Burrus and 6-6 Earl Watson, managed to get the Tigers back on track. Burrus' 10 points washed out the Belleville deficit and helped put them up by four at intermission, 38-34.

Outscoring the Trojans, 18-6, after the half, Belleville rushed ahead 56-40 for three periods, giving Niemi ample opportunity to substitute freely.

Burrus sank 12 of his shots from the field and made 10 of 14 at the free throw line for his 34 points. He was the only Belleville cager to make it into double figures, though Watson had nine and contributed 13 rebounds.

Not scheduled to play this Friday, Belleville resumes league competition Tuesday night when they host a physical and taller Dearborn Edsel Ford quintet. Last night, the Tigers traveled to Adrian for a nonleague tilt.

Salem clobbers Central to remain undefeated

Undefeated Plymouth Salem isn't taking any chances these days. The defending Suburban 8 Conference cage champs weren't caught looking ahead to their showdown against Livonia Bentley as Coach Fred Thomann's Rocks clobbered Walled Lake Central 71-26 to begin the 1978 portion of the season.

Thomann and his minions will face Bentley, which owns the other part of the title, and Belleville, a thorn in Salem's side in the past, during a 7-day span that could rock the conference.

"We're not looking ahead to those games," said Thomann, whose team has now won all eight of their games and is 3-0 in the conference. "If we lose before meeting those teams next week, it would take some of the glitter out of the contest."

That's unlikely because Salem goes up against an unimpressive Trenton on Friday, a team that hasn't won a league game thus far, before taking on the giant of the league, Bentley, in Livonia, on Tuesday, Jan. 16, and Belleville, on Friday, Jan. 19.

"We're concentrating on Trenton," said Thomann. "We don't want any surprises."

Walled Lake put up some resistance the first eight minutes which left them trailing by two, 10-8, but Salem erupted to a 20-4 advantage the next period and held a commanding 30-12 margin before the half.

All that was left in the second half was for Thomann's crew to mop up and they did with 22-8 and 19-6 margins, respectively for the third and fourth periods.

All 12 Salem players managed to punch the time clock. Rich Hewlett's 14 points stood up as the game's high while teammates Kevin Kelliher and Barry Owens chipped in 13 and 10 points respectively for the Rocks who had an incredibly dismal night at the foul line where they sank a mere one of 12 opportunities.

at his weight class.

Meanwhile, Ross ran up against a veteran wrestler in Dearborn Heights Crestwood's Dale Dreher and managed to win a clear-cut 7-0 decision for his gold.

Wayne missed its second gold when All-Area griddler, Dave Lusk lost in the 165-pound finals to Mount Clemens' Riley, 13-8. Teammates Mike Racinski (178), Frank Turgeon (126) and Dave Shell (105) picked up third, fifth and sixth place honors, respectively.

Salem got a second place performance from 112-pounder, Jeff

Brown who lost that weight class to Thurston's Boyer on a close 3-2 decision. Jim Schulte, a 98-pounder, won the consolation round and earned a third place, while teammates Piccola (165), Jerry Valchine (138) and Jeff Powers (178) brought home a fourth, fifth and sixth place respectively.

North Farmington's Jim Houetkier, a heavyweight, took home the individual Fall Trophy, amassing four pins in an elapsed time of 7:34, while the Team Fall Trophy was awarded to Plymouth Salem, (14 in 43:38).

After the first day of competition, Fenton emerged atop of the team standings with 78½ points, with Huron and Mt. Clemens a close second (76½) and third (75½) points. But that changed Saturday morning when Thurston climbed to the top thanks to 107 points. After Saturday's preliminaries Salem emerged as the team to catch by virtue of its 114½ points, half-point better than Thurston's total.

But a last minute surge in the finals gave Farmington the team championship.

Simmons' 26 pts. sink Riverside

Cherry Hill picks up title scent

Cherry Hill picked up the scent of the Tri-River Conference title chase with a one-sided 81-47 victory over Dearborn Heights Riverside Friday night.

Coach Dick McNally's Spartans hammered the Rebels into submission after leaping to a 29-10 lead in the first period. There was little doubt of the outcome after the initial eight minutes.

"Riverside didn't field a team a year ago because of millage problems," said McNally, "and the year layoff obviously hurt the kids. Coach Zielinski (Donald) is rebuilding his squad and is doing an exceptional job under the circumstances."

Zielinski's strategy was to hold the ball against the defending champs but numerous turnovers and Floyd

Simmons' shooting spree foiled the plans.

Simmons, who nearly single-handedly caused favored Westland John Glenn's demise at the Western Wayne Holiday Tournament, continued his sterling performance as he sank 11 field goals and was a perfect 4 for 4 at the foul line.

Simmons' 26 points topped the field and teammates Gary Williams, Pierre Hudson and George Johnson also reached double figures. Williams had 13 points, while Hudson contributed 12 while Johnson finished the evening with 10.

Cherry Hill trails undefeated Melvindale, which has beaten the Spartans, in the league standings and the rematch between the two teams should prove interesting.

"I feel that our kids are improving each game," McNally said, "and I know they want another shot at Melvindale."

But before the rematch, Cherry Hill has a couple of other crucial league confrontations, including one Friday night at Taylor Kennedy, a team capable of knocking over the kingpins.

"Taylor always is tough, especially on their own court," pointed out McNally. "But I feel we're ready."

In Over 30 Hockey League

Futurama Eng. skaters start new year with key victory

League-leading Futurama Engineering erupted for three goals in each period to humble Four-Seasons Sporting Shop 7-2 as the teams resumed competition in the Wayne-Westland Over 30 Hockey Conference.

The victory enabled Futurama to hang on to their slim two-point lead over a pair of opportunistic challengers, Jack Sports Center and Brock Homes. The second place teams have a total of 18 points each.

The holiday-break didn't slow down Ed Ross or Don Middaugh who produced two goals each for the winners, while Keith Middaugh, Mark LaFond and Norm Hanhala fired in one goal each.

Ron Wojewski had both goals for 4-Seasons.

Meanwhile, the ever-improving Huron Valley Total club made Jack's sweat before falling 7-3 to the second place team. The oilers kept the outcome of the game in doubt as they stayed abreast 2-2 until midway in the last period when Jack's exploded for five goals.

Jerry Grube registered the coveted three-goal hat trick for the winners while Chuck Jennett, Jerry Howley, Layne Cardinal and Jerry Robertson chipped in with single tallies.

The Huron Valley "production line" of John Colligan, Barry Anderson and Jack Bockstanz accounted for the loser's goals.

Brock's stayed in the title chase thanks to a come-from-behind triumph over Tastee Freez. John Dombrowski, who had three goals, bagged two of them in the final four minutes to lift his team to a narrow 5-4 decision. Dave Zajac and Tom Tucker each added goals for the winners.

Lee Calloway and Cork Hays scored for the losers.

In a duel between goaltenders Ron Mullendore and Don Smith, Mullendore and Extra Point skated off with a 2-0 shutout over Johnson Carbonic. The whitewash was the first of the campaign for Mullendore.

Terry Carley and Rich Mullen got the only goals of the game.

Softball in the snow

Despite the snow and northic weather, the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department has softball on its mind. The recreation officials are planning their third annual "Snow Bowl" Invitational Softball Tournament which is scheduled for January 27-28. This year there will be two divisions: a junior group, ages 12 to 17, and a senior division for 18 and older players. The junior teams will play on Saturday, Jan. 27 at Anderson Memorial Field in a single elimination format and the seniors will compete on Sunday. Any team wishing to enter should telephone Jim Poplin at the Community Center (721-7400).

Romulus splits at AA Huron tourney

Satisfied with the caliber of competition and his team's over-all performance at the Ann Arbor Huron Holiday Tournament, Romulus Coach Rod Hanna is ready for the stretch run of the 1978 high school basketball campaign.

"We played a couple of the finest ball clubs around," said Hanna, "and our kids managed to hold their own with both clubs."

The Eagles edged Bishop Borgess 62-61 after losing to Catholic League champ, Royal Oak Shrine 68-57 in the opening round at Huron High. "Shrine's defense beat our defense," Hanna commented. "We were sluggish and I have to think it was due to only two days of practice."

Romulus' 6-1 junior, Darryl Lewis, was awarded All-Tournament recognition after scoring 23 points and hauling down 19 rebounds during the two-day tourney. Joining Lewis on the mythical team were Mike Taylor (Bishop Borgess), Herb Bostic (Shrine), Jon Bauer (Shrine) and Eric Santifer, (Huron), who for the second consecutive year was also voted the MVP.

Huron, Airport in 2nd place cage duel

Though they are looking up at undefeated Tecumseh in the league, New Boston Huron cagers would like nothing better than to pry Carleton Airport from second place.

Coach Gene Smith and the Chiefs, after bouncing Carlson, 74-60, last week will attempt to solidify their grip on second at the expense of their Friday night host, Carleton. Also squeezed into third is Flat Rock.

"We got a good look at them (Airport) against Flat Rock and they won an overtime decision," remarked Coach Smith. "They definitely will have the height advantage over us, but I feel we're pretty evenly matched."

Coach Smith went on to point out that "the league this year is well balanced and I feel that a team with three or four losses could possibly win the championship."

The Chiefs made it two out of three in the league and evened up their over-all record at 3-1 all at the expense of Carlson who was forced into playing a catch-up ball game after trailing 16-7 in the first period.

Though Carlson came back and outscored Smith's cagers 24-13 in the second period to grab the lead 31-29 at intermission, Huron, paced by the Pichan cousins - Randy and Jerry squelched any upset plans with a 31-14 edge in the final eight minutes.

Randy, a rugged 6-4 senior center, continued his superb play as he pumped in nine field goals and hit on five of seven from the foul line for a game high 23 points. He also nabbed 22 rebounds, while cousin Jerry chipped in with 18 points and Greg Smith counted 10.

"I really feel we played the kind of basketball we're capable of in the final period," noted Smith. "Jerry made five straight baskets off of the fast break and that's the type of ball we need to win."

Jerry's 18 points also was a career high.

Collision course

Cherry Hill's Pierre Hudson (11) and a Westland John Glenn cager are on a collision course to retrieve this rebound during last month's Western Wayne Holiday Tournament that ended with the Spartans from Inkster retaining the championship after upsetting the favored Westlanders in the finals. The tournament apparently was just what Coach Dick McNally and his cagers needed to jell — they came back and buried Dearborn Heights Riverside after the New Year to remain in the thick of the Tri-River Conference title chase.

Romulus

Lewis, Vince Bean and John Kersey each sank four points to stake the Eagles to a 14-12 lead in the first period against Shrine, but Shrine, paced by the hot-shooting Bostic took over during the next eight minutes and established their superiority, 36-31, at halftime.

Shrine had the edge in the last two periods 18-13 and 14-13 to clinch the victory and advance to the finals where they lost to the host.

Darryl tossed in 19 points for his team's high and Bean supported him with 15 while Kersey wound up with eight points.

Bostic did most of the damage to the Romulus defense as he pumped in a game high 27 points.

Bishop Borgess leaped on the laconic Eagles in the first period, 17-8, but Lewis and Bean again paved the way for a Romulus comeback as Darryl collected eight of his game high 23 in the second period and Bean took on Taylor in a defensive maneuver which cooled the torrid-shooting Borgess forward.

The Eagles erased a 28-26 halftime deficit with a 14-9 edge in the third period and they were up by five in the closing minutes when Borgess rallied to within three.

"With one second left on the clock," explained Hanna, "we had a three point lead and they had the ball, so we let them get the last shot away."

Scheduled to play Ann Arbor Pioneer Tuesday night, Romulus will be inactive for nearly two weeks. They'll take an area rival Belleville on Tues., Jan. 23.

Big week ahead for Wayne

Zebras snap 5-game losing streak

After salting away a 56-49 victory over Lincoln Park Friday night, Wayne Memorial has the dubious honor of taking on undefeated Wyandotte, the Great Lakes 8 Conference leader next.

"I don't know a whole lot about them," said Wayne's Steve Schwartz whose Zebras managed to snap a five-game losing streak, a hangover from 1977. "I do know that Brian Henry (6-6) is scoring a heck of a lot of points for them."

Not only does Wayne have to worry about Wyandotte, but Tuesday night the Zebras clashed with Monroe, the defending champ. "This is definitely a crucial week for us. If we can do the things I know we're capable of doing, we're going to be all right."

Wayne was fortunate against Lincoln Park. Though Gary VonLinsowe put on a one-man show, the 6-2 senior didn't have a supporting cast and his 30 point scoring performance was wasted.

"Gary had seven steals in the second period and turned them into easy layups," pointed out Coach Schwartz. "And he was also 6-for-6 at the foul line and he was one reason why we had problems with them."

Wayne, behind a balanced attack, took a 13-6 first period lead, but Von Linsowe sparked the Railsplitters to a 22-16 advantage during the next eight minutes to carry his team to within one point, 29-28, of catching their visitors.

Wayne guaranteed its second victory in four league starts by outscoring their rivals 15-13 and 12-8 in the final two periods. The Zebras, however, may have lost starter Mark Zerna for the week. Zerna had a bad spill in the fourth period, landing on his back trying to save the ball from going out of bounds.

Darryl Jordan, a 6-5 junior, spotted L.P.'s 6-8½ pivotman Vince Ford 3½ inches and held his counterpart to 10 points.

Meanwhile, Kyle Poteau (14), Kelvin Lee (12) and Jordan (10) provided the Zebras with a balanced scoring attack which was aided by an 18 of 26 effort at the foul line.

"We got ourselves in early foul trouble," said Schwartz, "and that hurt us. But I felt we played a real good man-to-man defense, putting pressure on whoever had the ball."

Lincoln Park shot a respectable 50 percent from the floor, hitting 18 of 37 attempts as compared to Wayne's 19 of 46 for 41 percent shooting.

But of the 10 shots the Parkers took in that second period, eight were layups, accounting for the hefty percentage. They converted only three of 12 from the field in the crucial fourth period.

Northville is next

Hot-shooting Southfield humbles Churchill, 66-50

It was a game in which Churchill coach Fred Price could experiment, after all, his team wasn't doing well against the full-court press.

And Price learned via a 66-50 out of the league defeat inflicted by Southfield that his Chargers have a lot to learn.

"We have some work to do defensively on the press," Price said after his team's fifth loss in eight starts. "We tried it on them (- Southfield) because it doesn't hurt our league image, and we know we have a lot more work to do on it. They scored some easy baskets because they managed to get behind us."

Churchill will attempt to pick up the pieces Friday night when the Western Six Conference co-leaders take on Northville. Northville will bring a 1-1 record into the game at Churchill.

"It's a big game for both teams,"

Price commented. "We need the victory in order to stay in step with Plymouth Canton and Northville would like to tighten its hold on second."

Southfield established a 15-8 first period lead and stayed ahead the rest of the game after building up a 29-18 halftime margin. The Blue Jays outscored their rivals 18-12 in the third period and held on despite the Chargers' 20-18 edge in the final eight minutes.

Jensen jets to Kankakee swim victory

Julie Jensen is only seven-years-old, but the Westland swimmer left her mark on the Kankakee Holiday Mini-Meet Swim Invitational.

Miss Jensen, competing against some of the finest in her age group from Illinois, Wisconsin, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Iowa, New York and Michigan captured four gold medals.

She set a meet record for the 25-yard backstroke with an impressive time of 18.24, while Julie touched in first for the 25 freestyle (15.78), 25-yard butterfly (17.84), and the 25-yard breaststroke (21.65).

Jensen is a member of the Mustang Swim Club out of Dearborn and is coached by veteran mentor Bob Smoot.

JULIE JENSEN

Kinczkowski claims crown

Robichaud tanker is city champ in 100-freestyle

Defending Suburban Athletic Conference swim champ Robichaud found the going rough at the inaugural Dearborn Heights City Invitational and finished third in a field of four teams.

But Tom Kinczkowski struck gold for the Bulldogs when he came up in a two-way tie for first place in the 100-yard freestyle.

Kinczkowski and Crestwood's Tom Foresman were clocked in identical times of 55.8 and the officials declared a "dead heat".

"I was disappointed at our team's over-all performance," said Robichaud coach Jim Hadley. "We weren't as sharp as I thought we would be."

Robichaud garnered 222½ team points, some 12½ more than Riverside. But the SAC power trailed Annapolis (306) and Crestwood (291½) in the final standings.

Robichaud also received a pair of second place performances from Kevin Gustafson who was runnerup in both the 200-yard individual medley (2:24.0) and the 100-yard butterfly (1:03.5).

Thanks to River Rouge's 93-75 defeat of Highland Park, Robichaud now stands alone atop of the league standings. The Bulldogs will resume competition against Dundee, a nonleague rival on Wednesday, Jan. 9 and will meet Southgate at home on Jan. 16.

Westland seeks cagers

There's still time to sign up for the Westland Parks and Recreation's Youth Basketball League.

The league will be in operation until March 31 and players between the ages of 10 to 15 are invited to sign up.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning the recreation department at 261-7030.

Westland wins Wayne title

Robson sparks champs past Riverview in finals

Lance Robson's second goal with 23 seconds to go in the game broke a 2-all deadlock and lifted Westland to victory over Riverview, 3-2, and the Wayne Holiday Round-Robin Mite Hockey Tournament Championship.

Jim Jones tallied the other goal for the Westlanders who posted four straight wins to earn the title.

Riverview's Kevin Hebda accounted for both of his team's scores.

The champs launched their bid for the title by edging Riverview 4-3 in the first round of the tournament staged at the Wayne Arena. Robson again found the range for a pair of goals, while Pat Klem had one and Mike Kamen fired in the decisive goal.

Hebda proved to be the key to Riverview's offense in this one as well as he carded a hat trick.

Then, Westland moved into the quarter-final rounds where they ran up against an impressive Taylor team which they put down 6-3. Scott Hill teamed with Jones for four Westland goals and teammates Robson and Kelm each had one.

Ron Patterson came off the ice with two goals and Jason Tratechauch had one for the losers. In the semi-final round, superb netminding by Lonie Middaugh enabled Westland to get past an upset-minded Wayne, 3-2.

An open net goal from Mike Kamen with a mere four seconds left on the clock settled the issue between the two natural rivals.

Russ Chernackas and Chris Alexander scored for the Westlanders while Alan Caburet and Roger Hay got the goals for Wayne.

Spikes cling to Wayne volleyball lead

Earning a 2-1 match over fourth place American Waste, the Spikers continued to cling to the lead in the Wayne Mixed Volleyball League.

The victory left the league-leader with a 70-15 won-lost ratio, two points more than second-place, All-

Star Sports Shop, and Snow White & the 7 Dwarfs.

The Spikers had their problems with the Americans, eking out a 15-13 first set victory, then losing the second 15-6 before coming back and sewing up the victory with a 15-6 triumph in the decisive set.

In other games, Hofbrau fell apart after winning its first set 15-4 over the Jaycees, the Jaycees then turned around and handed their rivals 15-5 and 15-11 losses to move into 10th place.

The Leftovers swept three games from the Studio Lounge 15-4, 15-13 and 15-8, while All-Star Sports was too much for Burroughs Blues as the sportsmen emerged a top of 15-0, 15-6 and 15-4 decisions.

Inkster cagers resume action

Coach George Thompson Jr. and his Inkster Vikings will get down to business this week as the Suburban Athletic Conference resumes action on Friday.

The Vikings, presently owning a 1-0 SAC record, face their biggest league test of the season when once-defeated Highland Park invades the Inkster High gym.

"Highland Park is always tough," said Thompson, "and I really don't know what this long break has done to us. But I'm sure I don't have to stress the importance of this game to the kids - they know we're going to have to play an outstanding game to beat them."

Rouge is in its familiar spot at the top of the SAC standings, having beaten the Parkers and Ecorse. Inkster has a 1-0 league record thanks to a victory over cross town rival, Robichaud.

Microwave scalloped potatoes

Making the most of time, energy and money is high on most everyone's list of things to do. But it's not always easy to do all three at once. Often we end up spending a little more money for convenience, or sacrificing convenience for lower cost.

Most important is the need to plan for good nutrition and meals that our families enjoy. Taking all these factors into consideration when planning weekly meals can be a tall order. So it is nice to be able to depend on a few favorite foods that will contribute to quick, economical and enjoyable meals. Like the potato.

Potatoes are always a money saving addition to your shopping list. And this year the potato harvest is one of the largest in history so prices are excellent. So are the potato values.

The real bargain comes in the potato's nutritional package. Too many people believe the potato is "just a starch." It's simply not true. One medium potato contains one-third of your daily requirement of vitamin C, some important B vitamins and essential minerals. All these nutrients are available for just about 100 calories, no more than an apple or pear of the same size.

Best of all, potatoes are a popular vegetable your family will welcome in any meal. Their versatility makes it possible to prepare them in a myriad of ways, casual or fancy, as a side dish or an entree. So, the potato meets the requirements for economy, family satisfaction and good nutrition. What about your time and energy?

With microwave cooking, you can prepare all your favorite potato dishes in a matter of minutes. The favorite baked potato can go from cupboard to table, steaming hot and tender, in about four minutes. Just prick it with a fork several times as you would for conventional cooking and bake it on a paper towel for about two minutes on each side.

In a microwave you can prepare long cooking potato dishes on even the busiest days. Microwave Scalloped Potatoes, which usually take at least an hour, are ready in less than twenty five minutes when cooked in a microwave oven. Sliced potatoes combined with grated cheeses give this side dish great appetite appeal, perfect for last minute company and everynight family dining.

Whether you cook with electricity, gas or microwave, the potato adds variety and good taste to family menus at just pennies per serving.

Microwave Scalloped Potatoes

1 pound (3 medium) potatoes, peeled and cut in 1/4 inch slices
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon Italian herb seasoning
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon instant beef flavored bouillon (optional)

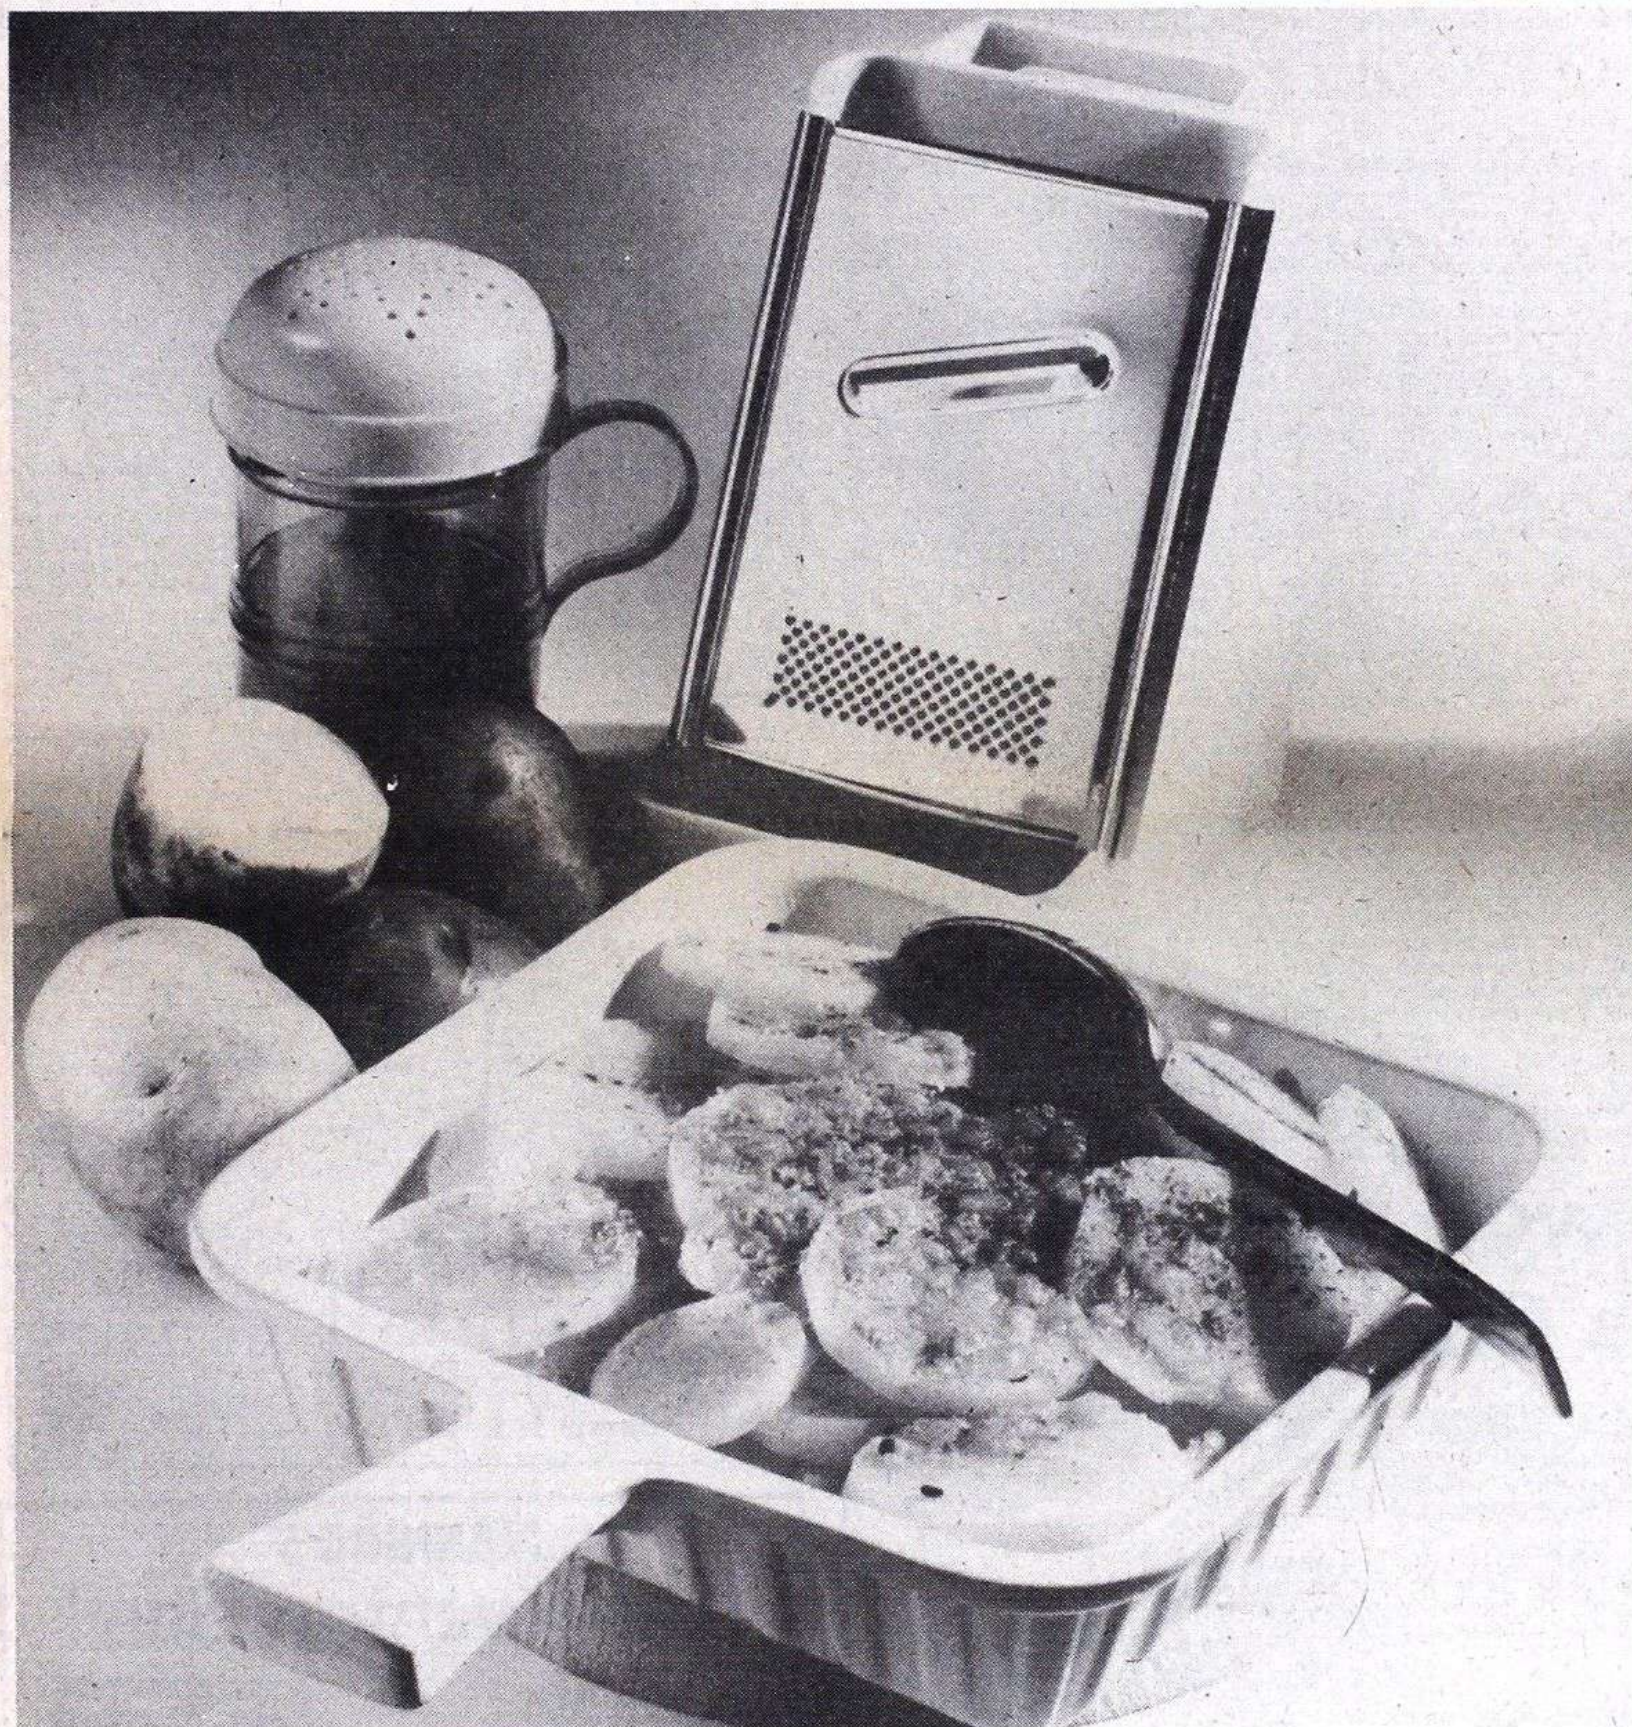

Topping:

1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 teaspoon paprika

Put all ingredients, except topping, into 8-inch round glass baking dish. Cover with plastic wrap. Cook in microwave oven 4 minutes; remove. Stir, cover and cook 4 minutes more. Combine topping ingredients and sprinkle over potatoes. Cook uncovered 2 minutes more. Let stand 5 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

FOR CONVENTIONAL METHOD:

Put sliced potatoes in saucepan with all ingredients (except topping). Bring to boil, stirring. Cover pan, reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Turn potatoes and liquid into baking dish. Cover with topping. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

Microwave it or go convential

Prepared in a microwave oven, these scalloped potatoes deliver the same creamy cheesy flavor as the conventional recipe but in a fraction of the time.

Both methods of preparation are included in the recipe.

Cross country, racquetball, disco, macrame, graphology on 'Y' agenda

The YWCA of Western Wayne County suggests a variety of ways to put life into those long winter days with its new schedule of winter events. Registrations are now being taken for classes starting the week of Jan. 15 plus special one-day events planned throughout the winter.

Swimming classes at Edison Institute pool, using the Red Cross achievement method, cover parent-tot water adjustment and skills levels from beginners to senior life saving. Older teens and adult women are scheduled Tuesday evening and children Saturday afternoon.

A special one night cross country ski clinic at Northville's Maybury State Park is scheduled for Jan. 25. The package includes roundtrip bus travel from the 'Y', a lecture on equipment fundamentals, all ski equipment, instruction by certified instructors and a moonlight ski.

Five one-hour group racquetball lessons, morning or early evening, are being offered at a special low price in cooperation with Supreme Racquetball Club on Ecorse Road between Middlebelt and Merriman.

DISCO DANCE lessons, Yoga, indoor golf and slim trim exercise compliment the physical fitness program. Leslie Fredericks, M.S. of physical education, has designed her Tuesday evening exercise to music series to focus on individual interests: specific figure problems and the special needs of pre and post natal conditioning.

Gerald Joanis is teaching beginning and advanced beginning bridge Tuesday evenings by popular demand. His fall students just wouldn't go home when the class time was over. What better recommendation.

Tuesday mornings offer a variety of creative opportunities. Paula Boase of Taylor will be teaching a three week macrame workshop. Women who attended her pre-Christmas sessions were delighted with the results. Beginners and experienced "knot tiers" will choose a wall hanging, stunning evening bag or fuzzy owl to exercise their creativity. Paula will also teach Indian finger weaving.

Peg Watson, Dearborn culinary columnist, is back with a new series of "Easy Entertaining". Two sessions will feature hors d'oeuvres and desserts. Peg has selected international cooking for her second two-week tasting extravaganza. Creations of the wok, crepes and fondue are her forte.

ON TUESDAY, Jan. 23, a just-for-fun program of graphology featuring Lorene Greene is scheduled. After continental breakfast at 9:30 Lorene, whose column appears regularly in the Observer-Eccentric, will explain how her skills are contracted by corporations for personnel selection. She will do a hand writing analysis of each participant. Sounds like fun!

Thursday morning "Deletante" is a new program of dabbling with a variety of interesting topics with questions you always wanted to ask and didn't know who to ask! Each morning starts with 9:30 continental breakfast and moves on with a guest speaker. Select individual morning program or register for the entire series.

On opening morning, Feb. 1, Mary MacDonald, Curator, Dearborn Historical Museum and President of Cherryhill Questers, will deal with collectibles. Or as Mary says, "How to make being a pack rat profitable".

Ameen-Murphy marry in Wayne

The marriage of Robert C. Ameen of Detroit and Cecelia Murphy of Dearborn Heights was solemnized Jan. 6 at the First United Methodist Church of Wayne. The Rev. Charles Jacobs presided at the seven o'clock ceremony.

Robert Gregoroff of Detroit served as best man and the bride's daughter, Kathleen Wagenbach of Columbus, Ohio was honor attendant. Ameen, who has been with Associated Newspapers for some three years, is a staff writer for the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman. A graduate of Carthage College in Carthage, Ill., he has one son, Randolph of Streeter, Ill.

The new Mrs. Ameen, an alumna of Monmouth College in Monmouth, Ill., serves as principal at Johnson School in Livonia. Her other children are Mary Zollender of Lansing who attended the wedding with her husband, Joe, and Barbara Fischer of Novi who was there with her husband, Tim.

The newlyweds were feted at a dinner party at Prince and the Pauper in Wayne and have taken up residence at their newly-purchased home in West Bloomfield.

potpourri

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Taking the Christmas tree down (a task I hardly relish) has gotten to be a rather sad time for me; particularly now that I tackle the job solo.

There are just too many memory-rattling things involved and I find myself doing re-runs (a bit moist around the eyes) of those Christmases-Past.

The tree at our house is never one of great beauty (to others). It is never decorated in any particular motif or color scheme and doesn't even hint at being a designer tree (as per Detroit society's young Schoeniths.)

And that's because we just can't seem to part with the mish-mash of ornamenta (have I coined a new word?) we've collected over the years — those from relatives and friends, some from different parts of the world and others lovingly hand-fashioned especially for us.

Among the most precious objects on our tree are two photo ornaments (Luanne was given hers for her own tree when she married three years back) — one of Susie at age two and the other of Carol at four — which my dear mom made.

She'd requested baby pictures (studio shots if we had them) of all her grandchildren back in 1970 or thereabouts and at holiday time each family received a lovely surprise from Florida — a package bearing her novel handiwork. Halving styrofoam balls, she pasted each picture on the flat surface then proceeded to enhance each with felt; glitter, beading and rickrack for hanging purposes. They are absolutely darling and, to us, priceless now that mom is gone.

We also treasure the gorgeous balls which our artistic friend, Gwen, created for each of us in the 60's. The largest, an exquisite blend of turquoise sequins, velvet, ribbon and semi-precious jewels, bears the workings of a music box and tinkles out "Jingle Bells" for us each season.

Our former Belleville librarian, Helena McCullough, ("Mac" to us) is responsible for any number of interesting pieces which grace our home each yuletide. Her little corn husk angels always stand guard near our crèche; the ceramic snowman and Santa which she had ordered made for our girls peak down at us from the bookshelves; her shiny ceramic drum and hobby horse dangle yearly from the tree branches; and the star-shaped pinecone "wreath" she gave me has a place of honor in the "yellow room" throughout the year.

Memories of Sister Cherubine (who had all three of our daughters at St. Anthony's) come to mind each time we hang her gift — a pale blue disc bearing the nativity scene — for all to see. The Miller's visit to Williamsburg a few years back is recalled when the memento of their trip, a cookie-like gingerbread house, takes its place on the Scotch pine.

A very delicate and fragile straw star bearing a tag, "Made in Poland", caught Luanne's eye the first time she visited Frankenmuth with Pete (then her fiancé). The birth of a new collection; it is now among several pieces the two have sent us each year.

Some of the things I love best, though, are the plaster-of-paris Christmas tree Carol made in third grade, the L'eggs carton Santa and the paper chains and string of wallpaper discs and straws which the girls designed themselves one dismal snow vacation day. They refuse to let me hang them on the tree but they're "in storage" and will be given to their own children some day.

It just gets to be a bit too nostalgic divesting that once gala shrub (now rusty and dry-to-the-touch) of memorabilia. It was even more so this past week since it was the last year they'd see duty in what's always been their home. Come 1979's holiday they will be on stage in a new setting — Tecumseh.

It seemed strange (but nice) putting all the things away in the most orderly of fashion — in three huge shipping boxes rather in the hodge podge of cartons we'd ordinarily use. Each is labeled (most efficiently) for future reference at our new residence.

I wasn't the only one a bit weepy this last week. As our two co-eds departed for another term at WMU they looked around a bit forlornly and said, "Well, I wonder if this will be the last time we say good-bye in this house."

"Pray that it is," I told them. (The house is up for sale and you know what that could entail.)

Since the distaff side at the New Year's Eve party we attended gave me food-for-thought for a 'potpourri' item, we'll dispense with pet peeves for another week and get onto their suggestion.

Being a potluck affair, the early A.M. repast we chose from was absolutely SENSational and we gals agreed, it was the only-way-to-go. Since many of us run into hostesses who simply will not hear of the co-op route, they (fellow guests) figured a little nudge from this direction might put them on an easier course.

Small, intimate get-togethers don't necessarily call for BYOB-ing or bringing a dish but, wow, what a boon it is when the guest list soars to 20 or more. Perhaps it's the reason so many people are reluctant to host a party — time, energy and expense putting a real damper on their enthusiasm.

Look at it this way, gals — with the 19 OTHER women each contributing part of your menu, you can come up with a fabulous feast. After an array of hors d'oeuvres and nibbles and seeing 1979 in, we dined on baked ham and turkey (courtesy our hosts) and dozens of other offerings (salads, hot casseroles, desserts, etc.) that would have taken her DAYS to prepare.

Don't be shy; give it a try! Ease the burden which can make a do-it-yourself party a complete drag. At least 20 Belleville women endorse the procedure (and who knows how many, many more? so if you're considering a post-holiday "do" (the Super Bowl, perhaps?), go potluck!

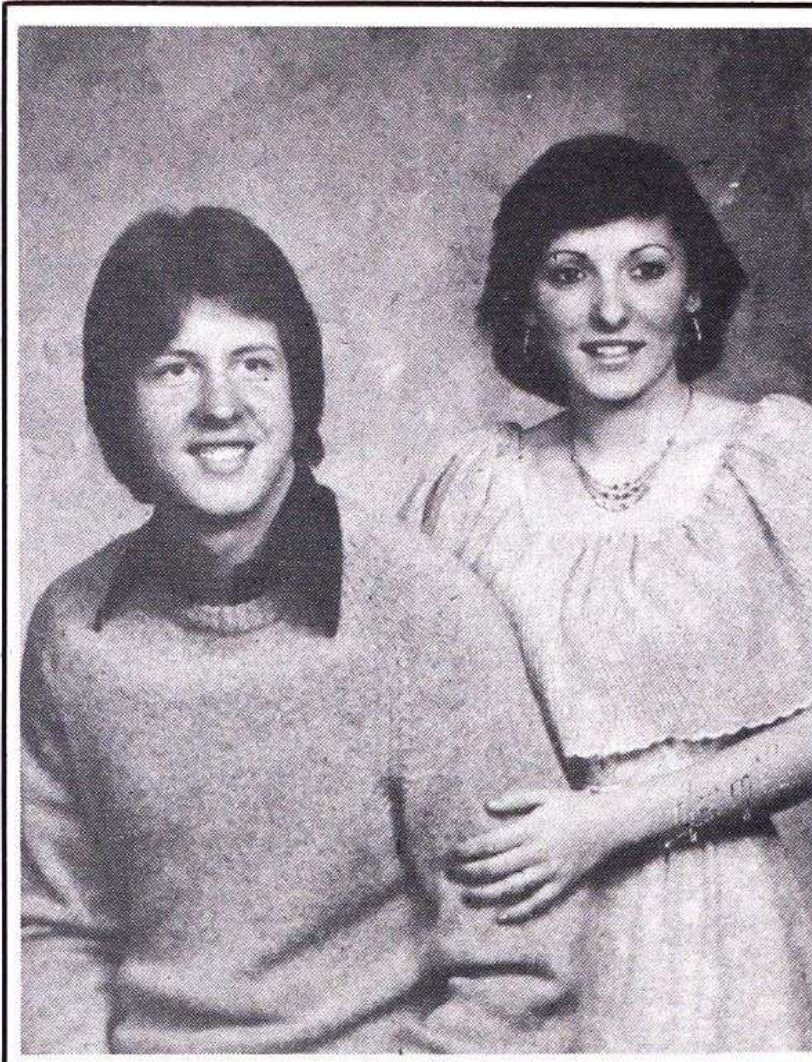

EVER WONDER CORNER — Ever wonder how the term "bread and butter note" came to be? Well, courtesy Jean Nidetch (Weight Watchers founder) here's the preferred explanation.

Variety was sadly absent from most 18th century dining tables. So the English sarcastically dubbed the sparse and monotonous meals, "bread and butter." And — like butter — the idiom spread to include all the necessities: food, clothing and shelter.

To work was to "earn your bread and butter", and if you housed a needy friend or relatives, you were "supplying bread and butter." Of course, your lodger was later expected to send a polite letter of appreciation.

By 1900, Americans had imported this custom as essential etiquette. Today, written thanks to a hostess are still called "bread and butter notes" — even if neither appeared on the menu!

THE BOTTOM LINE: Overconfidence is that feeling you get just before you learn better.

Altar date is set

The engagement and autumn wedding plans of their daughter, Vicki Richards, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Al Richards of 21823 Middlebelt Rd., New Boston. Miss Richards and her fiancé, Terry Ray, have set a November 10 altar date. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ray of 1930 Wilshire Pkwy., Westland, he is a graduate of John Glenn High School now employed at Highland Appliance in Dearborn. The bride-elect earned her diploma at Huron High School and is currently working for Alexander Hamilton Insurance Company in the Individual Financial Planning Department.

The Garden Corner

Experts answer questions

Extension specialists at Michigan State University answer timely questions on horticultural topics.

Q. Because of a power failure, the temperature in my apartment went down below 20 degrees F. Am I likely to lose all my plants?

A. It depends largely on the plants and on the length of time they were exposed to the cold temperatures. Small, very tender plants, newly rooted cuttings and seedlings probably will not survive. Larger plants may live, even if their tops are killed back, if the roots weren't frozen. About all you can do now is cut off dead and decaying plant material as you see it, give your plants normal care, and wait and see what happens. You may be surprised to find new growth appearing and your plants making a good recovery.

Q. I received an amaryllis as a gift and really enjoyed the flowers. Now it looks like it's developing seed pods. Could I grow new plants from the seeds? If so, how?

A. Amaryllis set seed pods easily. Pick the pods when they begin to turn yellow and break open. Remove the seeds from the pod and allow them to dry several days before planting in a well drained soil in small pots or flats. With temperatures of 60-65 degrees F, a moist atmosphere and partial shade, the seeds should germinate in two to three weeks.

Increase the light gradually after the young seedlings emerge until they are finally exposed to full light. Water carefully to avoid overwatering and rot. Do not transplant seedlings until they become crowded. Handle them carefully to avoid disturbing or bruising the roots. Root damage often results in the death of seedlings, caused by infection of the injured areas by disease organisms.

Under favorable conditions, you can grow flowering plants from seed in two to three years. Most amaryllis are hybrids, however, and do not breed true. The flowers of plants grown from seed are usually inferior to the flowers that produced the seed. This is why amaryllis are commercially propagated by removing offsets that form on the bulb or by cutting the bulb into vertical sections and developing new bulbs from each section.

Q. What's a whortleberry?

A. "Whortleberry" is a term used for both the European blueberry and the American huckleberry, a blueberry-type plant.

Q. The strangest thing is happening to my snake plant! It's developed a stalk about 10 inches long with tiny white flowers on it. Is this unusual?

A. A number of common foliage plants — including sansservieria, dumbcane, philodendron and others — will occasionally bloom in the home. It's often hard to determine just what conditions trigger flowering, but light (day length) and temperature are probably involved. The age of the plant may be a factor, too — many plants do not flower while they are immature.

MUSICAL NOTES
by Doug Brown
Two major types of modern bands were developed in the 18th century. These were the military or marching band, used for playing music on the march made up of brass-wind and wood-wind instruments; and the concert band, a more elaborate combination used for playing concert music especially written or arranged. It contains large brass or percussion instruments such as the kettledrum, which cannot be carried in a marching band. In the beginning, these bands were closely connected with the church.
If you are on a church committee charged with selecting a new organ be sure and come to DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484. It's back to routine after holiday whirl

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street accompanied her son Lynn and his son, Jeffrey, of Fraser to Charlevoix last week where they spent three days with the former's mother-in-law, 94-year-old Mrs. Lillian Moore. Mrs. Saunders also visited her aunt, Mrs. Bernice Knop, at East Jordan. They returned home Dec. 29.

Mrs. Howard McQuaid of Second Street, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Adams of East Huron River Drive; Mr. and Mrs. David Adams of Sumpter Road and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Flanery of Ypsilanti motored to Lansing on Sunday, Dec. 31, where they enjoyed dinner and the day with the former's son and wife; the Rev. and Mrs. Robert McQuaid and sons, Jim and John.

Mrs. R. G. Atyeo of Church Street spent the New Year's weekend with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nichols of Allen Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins and family of Borgman Street returned home on Friday, Dec. 29, after having spent a week with Mrs. Collins' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Van Valkenburg and family of Ypsilanti, at the latter's cabin near Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kuehne of Bryan, Ohio were recent guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Hazel Bryan of Wabash Street.

Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Boldt of Roland Street were the latter's sister, Mrs. Lyle Cubberly of Ypsilanti, and her son and wife, Lt. and Mrs. Lyle Cubberly and family who are stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wilson with sons, Denny and Eric from Caro, were New Year's weekend guests of the former's parents, the Russell Wilsons of Elwell Road. Other members of the family who joined them for New Year's Day were Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and daughter, Tracie, of Ypsilanti and Brad and Janice Whitehouse from Dearborn.

D. F. Ross and daughter, Rachel, of Falls Church, Va. were guests this past week of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F.D. Ross of Quirk Road, and of his grandmother, Mrs. D.W. Ross of Liberty Street.

A former Liberty Street resident, Mrs. Betty Fulton from North

Lauderdale, Fla., has been a guest this past week of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clark of Lake Villa apartments. She also spent some time with a niece, Lana Hyde of Westland, and other friends in the community.

After spending Christmas in Tecumseh with members of their family, Mr. and Mrs. George Haft of Church Street motored on to Bellbrook, Ohio where they spent New Year's weekend with another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones and family.

A former Belleville resident, Miss Ann McDonald, now of Phoenix, Ariz., was a caller last Friday on Ruth McAtee and other friends in the community.

New Year's Eve dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hatch of Church Street were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. A.F. (Mae) Fielder of South Street accompanied her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Scola and family of Sterling Heights, to Indian River on Friday of last week where they spent the New Year's weekend with former Columbia Avenue residents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hay.

Mrs. Hazel Wyllie from Fulton, N.Y., has been a guest the past two weeks of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clark of Lake Villa apartments. While here they visited friends, Flo and Lou Keefe at Manchester, and Sharon Clark of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoag of Boise, Idaho have been visiting members of the Hoag family in Belleville and surrounding cities.

Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street and granddaughter, Lynn Akans of Edgedale Drive., returned home last Wednesday evening after having spent the holidays with the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Marshall at Roxbury, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road were New Year's Eve dinner guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Miles Berkey of Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Clark of Lake Villa Apartments and houseguest, Mrs. Betty Fulton of N. Lauderdale, Fla.; James Cullin of Waters; Tom McDonalds of Haggerty Road and Mary Brooks of McBride Street enjoyed the New Year's Eve party at the Belleville Moose Hall.

Adventure days planned by YWCA

Exciting adventure days are the highlight of YW winter plans. Friday morning Feb. 16, 25 women will leave the YW for "Coffee Concert" at Ford Auditorium. After coffee and pre-concert fashions the symphony will perform under the direction of James DePriest. Immediately after the concert the group will proceed for luncheon on the promenade of the Plaza Hotel. Time is allowed for browsing the World of Shops before the relaxed bus ride home. Transportation, concert and luncheon are included in the $15 package.

On Wednesday morning, Feb. 28, tickets have been secured for a live performance of Kelly and Co. The group will move on to the new Southfield restaurant of Douglass

Douglass (you'll remember him as the energetic gourmet of television fame). You'll be thrilled with menu choices at this delightful dutch treat luncheon. Roundtrip travel is $4 per person.

A new course, C.A.R. (Care and Repair), is offered in two phases. The first 4-session phase deals with purchase, insuring, maintenance, repair and selling of a car. Phase II covers in-garage diagnosis and repair of car problems.

Parenting classes for single and blended families are scheduled for evenings. All activities are offered at lowest possible rates for the pleasure of YWCA members. Basic membership for one year is $6. For full information, call the YWCA of Western Wayne County 561-4110.

Shannon Marie gives city clerk new status

The staff at Belleville's Municipal Building was busy with congratulations for Belleville City Clerk Agnes Frisch on Dec. 21 — the day she became a grandmother for the first time.

Responsible for her new status quo was the nine pound - one ounce baby daughter, Shannon Marie, born that morning at 11:18 a.m. to her son and daughter-in-law, Dale and Cyndi Frisch of 46020 Lake Villa Dr., Belleville.

Sharing the joy of grandparenthood with Mrs. Frisch were her husband, Peter, and Mr. and Mrs. John Allmon of Belleville, the maternal grandparents.

Born at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti and measuring 22-inches, Shannon is the great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franczak of Wyandotte and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allmon of Leesburg, Fla.

The new mother is the former Cyndi Allmon.

Correct bathroom lighting important

What caused one of the biggest revolutions in the American lifestyle?

Indoor plumbing! Just about every home has the basics; here's how to make your bathroom work for you.

First, think about color. For good illumination, walls, ceilings and counter tops should feature light tones to better reflect the glow from incandescents and fluorescents, and to keep shadows to a minimum.

Dark basins or counter tops made of such materials as black marble, copper tone tile and dark plastic laminates absorb much light, thus wasting it. Then, too, light colors make a small room appear larger. You love deep brown or navy? Use them for accessories (towels, shower curtain, soap dish, etc.) A well-lighted mirror is a bathroom essential. Poor mirror lighting means nicks from shaving and garish makeup effects. Place fixtures at the top and sides of the mirror so they light the person looking into it, NOT the mirror itself.

The bathroom is sure to be the scene of nocturnal visits. GTE Sylvania's Panelescent Nite Lite will keep the sleepy-eyed from bumping into the facilities; it runs continuously at a cost of a few pennies a year.

Want to add real pizzazz? Create a plant corner in your bathroom. Plants love humidity; even your tough-to-grow varieties will do better in the bathroom as long as they have sufficient light.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal.

Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

DSO teams up with ballet troupe

The renowned Joffrey Ballet will return to Ford Auditorium for a record number of seven performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Feb. 21-25.

The prestigious ballet company made its first Detroit appearance three seasons ago as the guest of the DSO, and its reception in this city was so stunning that plans for a return engagement were made immediately, resulting in a continuing annual series of performances.

This season, the Joffrey will offer the most spectacular series to date—14 ballets and two special Young People's programs to be presented in seven separate performances.

The opening night performance, will feature Arpino's "Suite Saint-Saens" (music by Saint-Saens), two ballets by Ashton, "Monotones II" (music by Satie) and "A Wedding Bouquet" (music by Lord Berners), and a second ballet by Arpino, "Trinity" (music by Raph & Holdridge).

The second performance will be Feb. 22 at 8:30 p.m. and will include Ashton's "Les Patineurs" (music by Meyerbeer), Araiz' "Chopin Preludes" (music by Chopin), Arpino's Choura (music by Drigo), and Robbins's "New York Export: Op. Jazz" (music by Prince).

For the third performance, Feb. 23 at 8:30 p.m., the Joffrey Ballet will dance Robbins' "Interplay" (music by Gould), Achear's "Con Amor" (music by Adam), de Mille's "A Bridegroom Called Death" (music by Schubert).

The fourth and fifth performances will be Feb. 24 at 12:30 and 2 p.m. and will feature special Young People's programs danced to tapes. Details of these programs will be announced later.

The sixth performance will be Feb. 24 at 8:30 p.m. The Joffrey Ballet will perform "A Wedding Bouquet", "Monotones II", Balanchine's "Tarantella" (music by Gottschalk), and Jooss' "The Green Table" (music by Cohen).

The seventh and final performance during this year's visit by The Joffrey Ballet will be Feb. 25 at 3:30 p.m. and will feature "Suite Saint-Saens", Cranko's "Brouillards" (music by Debussy), "Choura", and "Trinity".

Coming soon

Singing star Eddie Rabbitt, voted "Best New Male Vocalist of 1978" by the Academy of Country Music, will be appearing in concert at the State Wayne Theatre on Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. Rabbitt, who records for Elektra Records, recently set a music industry record by scoring eight consecutive No. 1 singles. Beginning his career as a songwriter (his "Kentucky Rain" became Elvis Presley's 50th million-selling record), Rabbitt has more recently been associated with such hits as "I Just Want To Love You," "Hearts On Fire," "You Don't Love Me Anymore," "Rocky Mountain Music" and "Two Dollars in the Jukebox." Most recently, Rabbitt recorded the title song of Clint Eastwood's new motion picture, "Every Which Way But Loose." At the State Wayne Theatre, Eddie Rabbitt will be accompanied by his band, Hare Trigger.

Armory to host 11th camper show

The 12th annual Detroit Camper Show will be held for 10 days, Feb. 16, through Feb. 25 at the Detroit Artillery Armory near Northland.

The show will feature RVs of all types, filling the entire 280,000 square feet of the huge armory. These will include camping trailers, truck campers, travel trailers, motor homes and vans.

All told there will be approximately 800 recreational vehicles and related product and service exhibits for visitors to see and compare.

Many of Michigan's privately operated campgrounds will sponsor exhibits and information will be available about camping clubs, magazines, insurance, maintenance, financing, tourism, conservation and other related subjects.

The show will open at 6 p.m. Feb. 16. Other opening hours are 11 a.m. Saturdays and Sundays, and 2 p.m. weekdays. Closing hour is 10 p.m. daily except for the final Sunday, Feb. 25, when the show closes at 8 p.m.

For the first time senior citizens will be admitted for $1 Monday through Friday. Regular admission remains unchanged at $3 for adults; children 6 through 12, 50 cents; 5 and under free when with an adult. Parking is $1.

The following will be featured on special activity days during the show: Feb. 17, Miss Detroit Camper Show; Feb. 18, Michigan RV Family of the Year; Feb. 19, King of the Road; Feb. 20, Queen of the Road; Feb. 23, Industry Man of the Year; and Feb. 24, Outstanding RV Club.

Sponsor of the annual show is the Michigan Association of Recreational Vehicles and Campgrounds (MARVAC), a division of the Michigan Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Institute (MMHVI). Membership includes 700 dealers, campgrounds, manufacturers, suppliers, and others associated with the industry in Michigan.

Chairman of the show committee is Howard Monson of Monson & Son, Dearborn Heights. Co-chairman is Earl Rafferty of Walker and Rafferty, Dearborn. Committee members include Dick Baidas, General Trailer, Southfield; Max Bowen, Bowen Development, Livonia; Jim Christensen, Southland Sales, Taylor; Doug McGinn, Rollin Homes, Flat Rock; Bob Ozenghar, Use-A-Trailer, Dearborn; Roy Rider, KOA, Ypsilanti and Jackson; and Ray Siegrist, Siegrist Chevrolet, Grass Lake.

The Detroit show has been the largest and most successful public RV show in the country since it began in 1968 with an attendance of 116,383. The last show, in February 1978, hosted 159,302 persons.

MOT to present Verdi's 'Traviata'

Verdi's immortal classic, "La Traviata", will be the third production of the Michigan Opera Theatre this season.

Opening Friday, "La Traviata" will play for five performances through Jan. 20.

A perennial favorite with opera goers, "La Traviata" tells the fateful story of a young courtesan who finally discovers true love, only to die before she can realize her happiness.

The Michigan Opera Theatre production will star New York Opera's Catherine Malfitano, singing her first Violetta. Miss Malfitano has sung with MOT in "Lucia Di Lammermoor" and in the 1976 world premiere of "Washington Square". Miss Malfitano will sing Jan. 12, 14 and 19.

Alternating with Miss Malfitano will be Pamela Myers, seen by Detroit audiences last season as Marguerite in MOT's production of "Faust". Miss Myers will sing the role of Violetta on Jan. 17 and 20.

Also returning to MOT will be Brent Ellis, singing the role of Giorgio Germont. Mr.

Ellis last appeared in Detroit in "Washington Square" as the fortune-seeking Morris Townsend.

Making his MOT debut in "La Traviata" will be San Francisco Opera's Barry McCauley as Alfredo, Violetta's young, impetuous lover.

All performances will be sung in English and presented at the Music Hall, 350 Madison Avenue, Detroit. Seats are still available and may be obtained by calling the box office at 963-7680 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Exhibit to open Jan. 18

The biggest exhibition in its history is now being shipped to the Detroit Institute of Arts.

"The Second Empire: Art in France under Napoleon III" will open in Detroit on Jan. 18 for eight weeks through March 18.

With 362 works, paintings, sculpture, furnishings, decorative arts and rare period photographs, the huge show will portray the arts which dominated France and shaped American taste from 1852 until 1870.

"The Second Empire" has just closed in Philadelphia, where it set new attendance records for a period show of this type. Detroit will be the only other North American showing. From Detroit it goes to the Grand Palais in Paris this spring.

The sumptuous exhibition is the largest loan ever made to America by France. The lenders, organized by curators of the Musees de France and the Philadelphia Museum of Art, include private collectors as well as French provincial museums.

A TRIBUTE TO AMERICA'S MOST BELOVED ARTIST

Norman Rockwell

Gift World of Gorham*

Height 7½"
$125.00

A MEMORIAL FIGURINE

Remember Norman Rockwell as he wished to be remembered! At his easel...at work. Trying his best to make you laugh. This time: by his humorous, self-effacing "Triple Self-Portrait" (which first appeared on the Feb. 13, 1960 cover of the Saturday Evening Post.)

Now, in 3-dimension, crafted in fine porcelain we are able to enjoy the full impact of this legacy from "America's most beloved Artist"--a beautifully rendered figurine reproduction of the original painting in full color and in exacting detail. This Gorham Norman Rockwell memorial figurine of the famous "Triple Self-Portrait" painting will help immortalize a great talent--and help us to smile at his work, as he intended. Truly, a 'triple must' for every Rockwell admirer.
